

Stans Predicts Federal Budget Of $80 Billion

Believes Deficit Of $12 Billion Likely for Year

Madison —(A)—The nation's budget maker Thursday night urged "Spartan restraint" on federal spending for civilian purposes as he forecasts this year's budget will approach $80 billion and include a $12 billion deficit.

He said "No amount of wild slashing could bring the budget into a quick balance," but added it may be possible to strike a balance—at about the $80 billion level—two years hence if world tensions ease and the business recovery continues.

Substantial cuts in military outlays are impossible while world tensions persist, he said. "Only when there is a secure and trustworthy relaxation of tensions," he continued, can there be significantly lower military costs.

Stans, speaking at an American Bankers association meeting at the University of Wisconsin, delivered what amounted to a blueprint of the budget policy of the administration, plus a peek at a new budget review for fiscal 1959, which ends next June 30. He said the review will be issued in about a week. It will take into consideration revisions of the President's January budget message made necessary by spending of the last congress.

Stans' informal summary showed: Outlays of more than $79 billion, more than $5 billion higher than Eisenhower's estimate and "dangerously close to an $80 billion spending level."

Revenues of $67 billion, or almost $74 billion less than was originally counted on, reflecting diminished tax income caused by the business slump.

And a total deficit of approximately $12 billion, instead of the modest half-billion dollar surplus foreseen by the President in January.

Tropical Gale Grows Bigger

Hurricane Watch Put Into Effect In Texas Region

New Orleans —(A)—Tropical storm Ella increased in size during the night and very likely in intensity, the weather bureau said.

This probably would make Ella, a lumbering mass for the last few days, a hurricane with winds 75 miles an hour or more. Highest winds have been about 70 miles an hour since it left the tip of Cuba Wednesday.

An 8 a.m. bulletin from the weather bureau office here said gale warnings and a hurricane watch are in effect from south of Corpus Christi to Galveston, Texas.

An earlier advisory said the storm was headed toward the central Texas coast and warned of rising tides.

A spokesman for the weather bureau said coastal roads between Galveston and Port Arthur and in Louisiana's Cameron parish already were closed by water.

Say Meteor Broke Tower On Mountain

Appalachia, Va. —(A)—An object—which a power company official believes was a meteor—smashed against a high tension line tower atop a mountain peak near this southwest Virginia town yesterday, damaging the tower.

"We think it was a meteor," said W. C. Skeens, Old Dominion Power Co. service manager. He described the object as being 4½ feet by 3½ feet, and said it had "a terrible odor, like sulphur."

Another Old Dominion official said crewmen at the scene estimated the object's weight at between 1,000 to 2,000 pounds.

As a precautionary measure, he added, atomic authorities at Oak Ridge, Tenn., were being contacted as to the possibility of radioactivity.

Meanwhile spectators began flocking to the scene. Skeens said the object struck a 55-foot tower supporting the Old Dominion's 33,000 voltage line, bent a tower arm, broke insulators and shorted.

Defends Role In Union Loan

Attorney Resents Adjournment Which Delays Explanation

Washington —(A)—Tea risters Lawyer George S. Fitzgerald said today he can explain fully his role in a million dollar union welfare fund loan under fire in the senate rackets hearings.

He expressed resentment that the hearings were adjourned until next Tuesday before he had a chance to reply as a witness to testimony involving him.

The special investigating committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D - Ark) heard testimony yesterday about a 1955-56 loan to a Detroit real estate promotion firm which allegedly has repaid none of the debt and not all of the interest due.

Loan From Union The loan was made from the Michigan Conference of Teamsters Welfare fund.

A staff accountant testified that the Winchester Village Land Development company paid Fitzgerald and others a $35,000 fee for telling the firm where it could get the loan.

Fitzgerald, a former Democratic National committee man from Michigan, told newsmen the payment was made for legal services and not as a loan-finding fee.

See Victory in Fishing Dispute

Reykjavik —(A)—Icelanders claimed today they are winning their codfish war with Britain. Reykjavik newspapers headlined "The Retreat of the Pirates," and "The British Are Tiring."

The coast guard claimed it had intercepted short wave messages from British trawler crews indicating the British fishing vessels are growing weary of being chased by Icelandic gunboats and may pull out soon.

Last Monday, Iceland extended her territorial waters from 3 to 12 miles to protect her fishing industry, while British fishing vessels contested the legality of the move by continuing to fish within the 12-mile limit.

U. S. Judges in 2 Virginia Cities Rule Against School Integration

By the Associated Press

Court actions in Virginia and a group of white high school students on strike in Arkansas held attention today on the south's spreading integration scene.

Federal judges in Virginia ruled against school integration—at least for the moment—in cases at Norfolk and Alexandria yesterday. One judge, though, made it plain his ruling is subject to change after the supreme court acts on the Little Rock case now pending before it.

Try to Bar Negroes A group of about 50 white boys milled around the high school at Van Buren, Ark., yesterday for the announced purpose of keeping Negroes out of the classrooms. Their strike—that's what they called it—was a telegram to Gov.

De Gaulle Pleads For Constitution

Tells French People Nation Must Regain Place in Sun

Paris —(A)—Premier De Gaulle appealed to the French people last night to adopt his proposed constitution and restore France to her place in the sun.

While communist hecklers booed and tried to smash through protecting police lines the historic Place de la Republique, the premier outlined a stronger executive branch, a new parliament, a new supreme court and a new federal relationship with the overseas territories.

Most of those nearest the rostrum, where De Gaulle stood surrounded by his ministers, were admitted to the square by invitation only in a move to keep the reds and other known De Gaulle foes in the background.

Premier Guarded Helmeted police and youths with Gaullist armbands stood guard as the premier made his plea. A milling mob of 1,000 or so, led by veteran reds, tore up paving blocks and hurled them at the guards, in an effort to get near the speaker's stand. The police dispersed the mob.

Authorities said 34 persons, 24 of them policemen, were injured. Eleven were hospitalized. The victims, found huddled in a bathroom, were: Glenn Strayer, 23, his wife, Janet, 19, and their two children, 15 and 12. Sherry Ann, 2, and John, 4, were in opposition to the constitution.

The World War II hero called-in-law of Strayer, suffered a fall on the French to vote yes severe back injury as he fell in the Sept. 28 referendum in about 15 feet from the roof.

17-Year-Old Topsy Driver

Seymour Boy on Probation to Parents Until 18

Seymour —David Harvey Maass, 17, route 3, Seymour, was placed on probation to his parents until one month after his 18th birthday after he pleaded guilty of drunken driving when he appeared before Justice of the Peace R. C. Schultz.

He was arrested at Pearl and Main streets by Police Chief Bernard Plumb at 12:30 Tuesday morning. The chief said the boy was unable to take the drunkometer test.

Justice Schultz was given jurisdiction in the case when the juvenile court waived its interest in it. Maass was ordered to pay $25.50 court costs and his driver's license was revoked.

Peiping Stand Seen as Prod To Russians

Could be Effort To Remind Moscow Of Commitments

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles have indicated they detect something phony in red China's noise over the Chinese offshore islands.

If Peiping has taken it upon itself to raise a real threat of war in the Formosa strait, the American response will give communist China's allies, the Russians, some food for serious thought.

There are aspects in the Far East developments indicating that the red Chinese are just as interested in prodding the Russians as they are in challenging the United States.

By drawing a line around the islands with their declaration of a 12-mile territorial sea limit, the Chinese have presented the Russians with a problem. The Chinese purport to say that any American defense of the offshore islands is, in effect, invasion of red Chinese territory and direct aggression.

This sharply reminds the Russians of their treaty commitments. Soviet propaganda has been saying Moscow is ready to spring to Peiping's aid "if" there is aggression. The red Chinese now are saying "if" there is aggression.

President Eisenhower's official warning to the communists yesterday said only that U.S. forces would help fight for the offshore islands.

Military Spokesman Says Communists Tightening Up Blockade of Quemoy

BY ROBERT TUCKMAN

Taipei —(A)—The Chinese nationalists said today the communist blockade of Quemoy is tightening and they soon may need help to keep their supply lines open.

Rear Adm. Liu Hsiang-shan, chief nationalist military spokesman, refused to tell newsmen whether U. S. warships might be asked to escort supply convoys to the islands just off the communist mainland.

There have been persistent rumors that ships of the seventh fleet would soon start escort duty to the offshore islands.

Ike's Warning Dispatch of U.S. vessels to guard Quemoy-bound convoys would send the ships across red China's new 12-mile sea limit. The Peiping government has indicated it would regard such action an invasion of its territory.

Liu's remarks followed yesterday's reported U.S. decision to help defend Quemoy and Matsu against any communist invasion—possibly by bombing red bases on the China mainland.

The Chinese nationalist foreign ministry, which has flatly rejected Red China's new sea border, today called for the United States to make a clear-cut statement on whether it would help the nationalists defend Quemoy and Matsu.

President Eisenhower's official warning to the communists yesterday said only that U.S. forces would help fight for the offshore islands.

Gremlins, Not Carriers, To Blame for Late Papers

The Post-Crescent's press crew still is chasing gremlins and a particularly elusive one caused no end of trouble Thursday. That's why your paper was late last night.

The gremlin got into the press, but had nothing to do with switching the pages around. We did that ourselves. It was necessary to replate the press to circumvent the mechanical difficulties. We are sorry if the page numbering caused confusion.

The Goss anti-friction press put into operation on Aug. 4 is an extremely complex piece of equipment. Difficulties in production develop that are impossible to foresee. Please bear with us during this shakedown period as we work out the problems so we can provide you with better service and a better newspaper.

Carrier boys are in no way responsible for the late deliveries. They stood by Thursday and delivered the papers as soon as they were available. Some of them had to stay up pretty late for a school night.

Hoffa Delays Convention Call

Teamsters Chief Postpones Action Aiming at Election

Washington —(A)—Teamsters chief James R. Hoffa has postponed a decision on whether to call a union convention which could free his union from a court-appointed monitoring board.

Objections to the plan by the monitors themselves led Hoffa yesterday to announce a Sept. 16 meeting of the union's international executive board and the monitors to discuss the proposed convention.

Under terms of the court order by U. S. District Judge F. Dickinson Letts, which set up the monitoring board, the union can get the monitoring dissolved by holding a convention anytime after next January and electing officers again. The election would be supervised by the monitors.

Letts set up the monitor arrangement as part of a compromise settlement of a lawsuit challenging Hoffa's right to become teamsters president last year.

Martin F. O'Donoghue, chairman of the monitor board, earlier had protested Hoffa's announced plan to outline his convention plans to the union's executive board yesterday. O'Donoghue said the monitors should be consulted first.

No observer doubted that Hoffa could win reelection at a special convention. Reportedly, his plan is to call a convention in February, get himself reelected, and then ask the court to end the job of the monitors.

Judge Threatens To Jail FBI Agents

Columbus, Ga. —(A)—A Georgia judge today threatened to throw into the common jail any FBI agents who come investigating his court in a "high-handed, menacing manner."

Judge Walter I. Geer of Colquitt let loose a broadside at federal officials filing a civil rights suit against Terrell county voter registrars whom he had appointed.

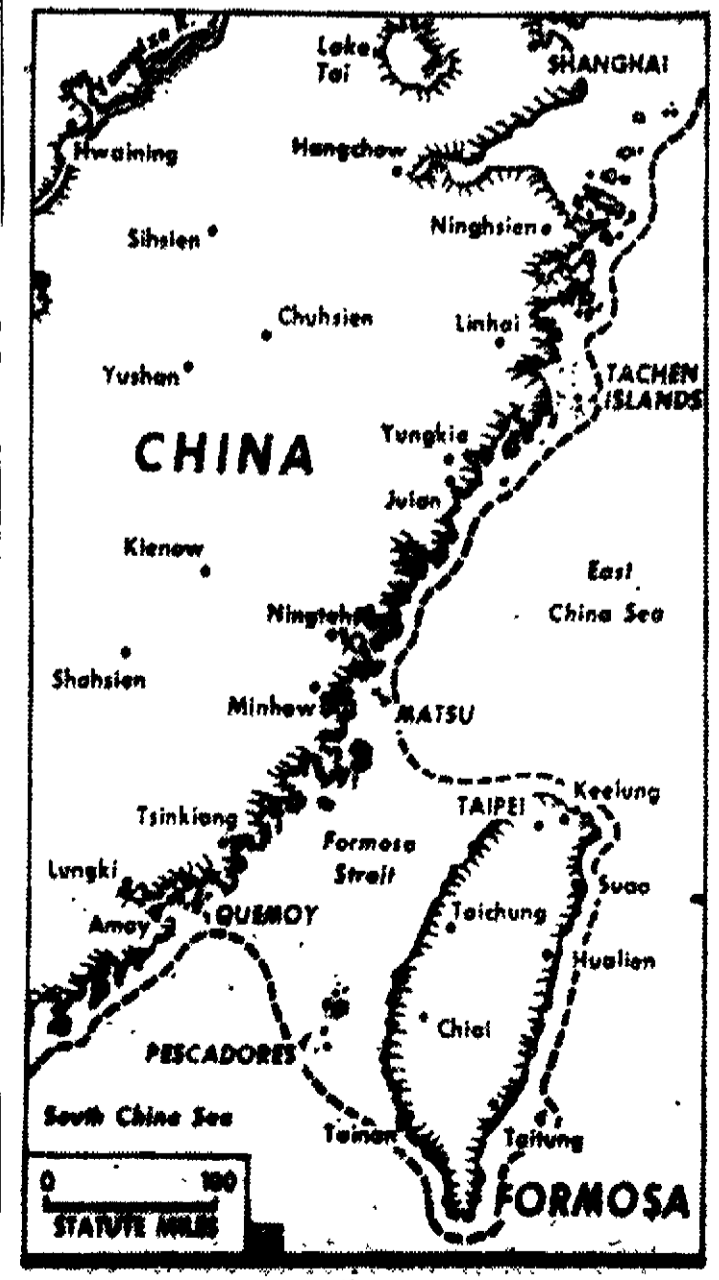

The suit in the first test of the 1957 civil rights act charged the registrars with discriminating against prospective Negro voters.

Town in Northern Kansas Is Flooded

Clyde, Kan. —(A)—Flood water from Little Elk creek inundated this northern Kansas town's business district to a depth of two to three feet.

No casualties were reported. Four residents were missing for a time but all were accounted for later as the water receded rapidly.

John Hale, editor of the Clyde Republican, said that except for a dozen houses on high ground every home in the town of 1,100 was damaged.

The Broken Line Indicates where Red China Thursday announced the extension of its territorial waters to 12 miles beyond offshore islands along the Chinese mainland—including the islands of Matsu and Quemoy as well as Formosa and the Pescadores islands. Chinese always have claimed Formosa and the Pescadores were part of what they call the Chinese inland sea.

GOP Holds Rally, Attacks Proxmire

Crowd of Party Members Cheers Speakers Knocking Democrats at Milwaukee Auditorium Meeting

By the Associated Press

Bolstered by visiting lawmakers, Wisconsin Republicans rolled up their sleeves at a huge rally Thursday night and hammered at Sen. William Proxmire. He had a ready reply for most of them.

More than 2,000 GOP leaders and workers gathered in the Milwaukee auditorium and cheered as one speaker after another blistered the Democrats. The rally lighted the fuse on the party's organized campaign for 1958 and the drive by Roland Steinle to unseat Proxmire.

Master of ceremonies Rep. John Byrnes, Green Bay, sounded the conditions of the party's fight when he declared:

"Disgusting Record"

"We may have let Democrat lies and deceptions go unanswered in the past, but in this campaign we're going to bring the truth unmercifully to every crossroads in Wisconsin."

He charged, "Billion Dollar Bill has now erected a disgusting record of broken promises and irresponsibility."

Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.) described Proxmire as "one of the labor bosses' fair haired boys," who "has set an unenviable record as the wildest spender of the people's money in the history of the United States Senate."

The same point was made by Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.) who said the Democratic senator's bill would have added $120 to the per capita tax.

In a statement distributed before Simpson spoke, Proxmire branded the representative's assertions as false and challenged any critic of his program to be specific.

"The fact is my program would save $9 1/2 billion," he added.

Water Steal Champ

Proxmire called on Dirksen "as the champion of the Chicago water steal to justify coming into Milwaukee to solicit big Wisconsin money to help defeat the senator who made an all-out fight against the water bill."

"I am convinced," Simpson said, "that as long as the Democrats control congress they will block any effective proposals to protect the rank and file (union) members, just as they did this year. Nothing will be done to curb the labor bosses."

Gov. Vernon Thomson said the GOP will not take any orders from "solidarity hall in Detroit," a rap at Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers.

Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin was kept away by a prior engagement, but he sent a letter that drew wild applause when read before the gathering. There was also a telegram of greeting from President Eisenhower.

Liberal Party Backs Hogan in New York Race

But Won't Support Democratic Attorney General Candidate

New York—The Liberal party has endorsed Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan, Democratic nominee for U. S. senator.

But it has refused to back Peter J. Crotty, Democratic candidate for attorney general, saying he is too conservative.

The Liberal party plans to run its own candidate for attorney general, while backing all other candidates on the Democratic statewide ticket for the Nov. 4 election.

The Liberal party advisory committee's endorsement of Hogan after heated debate last night strengthened his chances of defeating Rep. Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester, Republican nominee for senator.

Attorney General Gains

The rejection of Crotty, Erie county Democratic leader, improved the chances of Republican Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz for retaining his office.

Democratic leaders had been making urgent pleas to the Liberals in behalf of Hogan and Crotty because the Liberal vote can decide a close contest between the major parties in this state.

Hogan and Crotty lacked the support of Gov. Averell Harriman, who is running for reelection, and Mayor Robert F. Wagner at the Democratic state convention. The two nominations were engineered largely by Carmine G. de Sapio, Tammany hall leader and Democratic national committeeman.

Harriman's Choice

Harriman's first choice for senator was Thomas K. Finletter, former air force secretary, first nominated by the Liberals.

Finletter, in declining the Liberal party nomination for senator, said he did not want to have any part in increasing Republican strength in the senate. Finletter urged the Liberals to support Hogan.

American Legion Ends 40th Annual Convention; Elects New Leader

Chicago—The American Legion ended its 40th annual convention Thursday, electing Preston Moore of Stillwater, Okla., its new national commander and affirming its traditional condemnation of communism.

The exodus of thousands of Legionnaires left Chicago's loop with the comparative quiet of everyday business. Hours-long parades, antics of delegates and whoops, sirens and bells had lent a carnival atmosphere to the city the last 10 days.

Moore, 38, a lawyer and World War II army air force veteran, was elected by a margin of nearly 5 to 1 to head the Legion, which now claims 2,700,000 members.

In his acceptance speech, Moore said the United States must take the offensive in the struggle between the free world and communism.

"We must rid America of the defeatist, destructive philosophy that we can only defend against communism," he said. "Clearly, we must seize the initiative if the cause of freedom is not to be lost ultimately and completely."

Resolutions

Before the election, the delegates whipped through a host of resolutions. Among them, the Legion called for U.S. military strength second to none; condemned communist activities in the Middle East, the Formosa straits, Indonesia and Latin America; criticized U.S. leadership as aiding international communism in the Middle East by "lack of a firm foreign policy;" implied failure of U. S. policymakers to come to grips with Latin American problems, and rejected an assertion by Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy that America still leads the world in military strength.

The Legionnaires also demanded "a halt to any cutbacks in the defense program" and asked that congress "use every available means to finance the strongest defense and military preparedness program possible."

In another resolution, the Legion backed the U.S. policy of aiding Formosa against aggression of Red China and renewed its sweeping opposition to any recognition of Red China in trade, diplomatic relations, or as a candidate for membership in the United Nations; opposed federal funds for public schools as a possible step toward thought control of the nation's children, and criticized the U. S. supreme court for having "adopted the role of legislative policy maker" in recent decisions, including a ruling that the FBI must make available its pertinent secret files to persons brought to trial on subversion charges.

U. S. Capitol Unrecognized By Tourists

Washington—A worried looking, camera-bedecked tourist told a guard, "I've been in this building 30 minutes and still don't know what it is."

It was the United States capitol.

Happens all the time, the guard said. "They come in, look around, and you'd be amazed how many ask 'what building is this?' Yeah, American tourists."

This started an informal poll of capitol policemen, guards, elevator boys and guides. Their consensus: "You'd be amazed at the number of Americans that don't know their nation's capitol when they see it."

One tourist, looking at the capitol where it's been sitting patiently through millions of pictures for more than 150 years, asked indignantly: "Why don't they put a sign on the building?"

The office of the capitol architect says the number of tourists in the building averages from 10,000 to 15,000 a day over a year's time. Right now it's a slack season that won't pick up until next April, when the school children come just as sure as spring.

The policemen, the guards, the elevator boys and the guides try to answer all the questions.

They agreed that a lot of people thought the capitol was the White House or at least a place where the president kept his office.

Man to Pay for Patrolman's Revolver Broken in Blow on Head

Long Beach, Calif.—Howard R. Bunting has been ordered to pay for the damages caused to a policeman's revolver that broke on his head.

Bunting, his head swathed in bandages, pleaded guilty to drunk and resisting arrest charges yesterday. The court said he'd have to pay for the broken ejector on Patrolman J. S. Folk's pistol because it was Bunting's fault Folk had to hit him.

Police said Bunting, 25, and two other men were arrested for being noisy and boisterous in a bar. Each was fined $125.

Underground Plants for Nuclear Power Urged For Radiation Shield

Swiss Atom Experts at Conference Say Installations No More Costly

BY RONALD THOMSON

Geneva—Atom Scientists were urged today to consider building nuclear power plants in underground caverns to protect the public from radiation loosed in a possible accident.

Two Swiss experts told the atoms — for—peace conference that subterranean installations would be more expensive than above-ground plants needing special radiation armor.

Drs. P. De Haller and A. F. Fritzsche said that despite this armor, or containment vessel, people living near a nuclear plant risk exposure to radiation in any emergency.

For this reason alone, they said, "above-ground installations must either be sufficiently isolated or the evacuation of the public in proximity to the plant must be reckoned with."

Rock Protection

"In underground plants the surrounding rock will in all cases provide ample radiation protection,"

The Swiss scientists said another danger in reactor blowup could come from chunks of metal flying out from the plant.

"The damage from such missiles could be very much more extensive in an above-ground enclosure, where a total penetration of the containment wall is plausible than in an underground lay-out," they said.

The scientists said the expense of excavation for an underground vault would be compensated by the simpler architectural demands and by the lack of need for extra sealing around the reactor.

An underground nuclear plant for producing steam is being built at Halden in Norway and plans for similar projects are under study in Sweden.

Two American biologist told the conference radiation can shorten life, and in this respect resembles a speed-up in natural aging.

Unique Stress

Radiation seems to be unique as a stress, insofar as complete recovery is never possible from a large dose," said Drs. H. J. Curtis and K. L. Gebhard of Brookhaven National Laboratory, at Upton, N. Y.

Animals getting large doses of certain poisons were compared with those getting large doses of radiation.

Those which survived the poisons lived out their expected life spans. But those exposed to large radiation aged and died prematurely.

Just how radiation shortens life is not clear, they said. Their tests did not show that it was due to changes produced in body cells, nor by radiation effects on bone marrow and the blood.

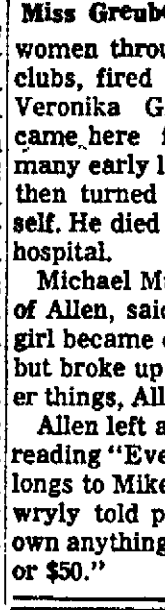

50-Year-Old Man Kills Young Girl, Takes Own Life

New York—George Allen, 50-year-old house painter who shot and killed a young immigrant girl on upper Broadway yesterday, died eight hours later after putting a bullet in his own head.

Allen, who corresponded with dozens of women through lonely hearts clubs, fired three bullets into Veronika Greubel, 23, who came here from West Germany early last year. Allen then turned the gun on himself. He died at Knickerbocker hospital.

Michael Mullen, 39, a friend of Allen, said Allen and the girl became engaged last year but broke up over, among other things, Allen's drinking.

Allen left a note in his room reading "Everything I own belongs to Mike Mullen." Mullen wryly told police: "He didn't own anything. He owed me $40 or $50."

Newest Hotel in Bermuda Burns; No One Injured

Hamilton, Bermuda—A fire that burned downward from the roof left one of Bermuda's newest and largest hotels, the Bermudiana, a total loss today.

Several firemen were overcome by smoke but no injuries were reported. The hotel manager said all 215 guests plus regular residents and staff members were moved safely to other hotels.

A fire tug stood by the near-by Princess hotel as sparks flew toward it at the height of the fire. All the fire brigades in the mid-Atlantic British colony and units from two U. S. naval bases brought the fire under control hours after it broke out last night.

The cause of the fire was not immediately known.

Typhoon Grace Kills 13 in Hitting Formosa

Taipei, Formosa—Police said today Typhoon Grace killed 13 persons, injured at least 17 and left eight missing in northern Formosa.

The 115-mile-an-hour winds and torrential rains of the year's worst Pacific storm made 2,500 persons homeless; knocked out communications and electrical power, and caused damage to crops estimated at several million dollars.

Grace moved up the East China sea yesterday in the direction of Shanghai. There has been no word from the communists of the storm's effect on the mainland.

London Rioters Throw Bombs in Negro Home

London—Race rioters hurled gasoline bombs into a Negro's house last night, then besieged two policemen who dashed in to put out the blaze.

The house in Paddington, an area adjoining London's racial storm center of Notting Hill, had been bombarded with milk bottles and garbage earlier in the day.

The mob gathered quietly shortly before midnight. The occupants, a 27-year-old Jamaican and his wife, were not at home. Neighbors on either side were quietly told to move out.

The door of the target house was broken down and bombs were hurled into the hallway. Two policemen dashed in and threw one bomb back into the street. It burned two girls in the crowd.

Turned on Police

Then the mob—mostly teenagers—turned on the police. They dashed back into the house and barricaded themselves against a barrage of stones and bottles.

Fire engines and police reinforcements turned up to rescue them.

In Notting Hill, firemen put out a blaze in a basement occupied by a colored family. A gasoline bomb had been thrown through the window. Color violence spread last night to suburban Southall. Police cars raced to the district to break up gangs chanting "Lynch the niggers."

Three men were arrested. Britain's Trades Union congress, representing more than eight million workers, today unanimously condemned the race riots and charged that fascists were behind them.

Secretary Sir Vincent Tewson told congress delegates at Bournemouth:

"If I say that people in this country are positively ashamed by the recent events I know it won't be taken as just a cliché."

"This is a call to action in a serious and complicated fight—not between black and white but against forces which as a democratic movement we cannot allow to raise their heads again."

Tewson showed delegates a leaflet blaming both conservative and labor parties for allowing colored immigration and saying "Back Mosley in this fight."

Sir Oswald Mosley is boss of the Union Movement, an offshoot of the pre-war British union of fascists.

Experts Study Phenomena Linked to Solar Activities

BY DR. SCOTT E. FORBUSH

Department of Terrestrial Magnetism, Carnegie Institution of Washington

The International Geophysical Year is concentrating the greatest effort that ever has been made in the study of the earth and how it is influenced by the sun.

Around the world scientists are making observations and taking notes on the many different phenomena connected with solar activity: Weather, aurora and airglow, ionospheric which make radio transmission possible, most variations in the earth's magnetic field, all the known time-variations in the intensity of cosmic radiation.

In this simultaneous observation lies one of the great advantages of the IGY.

Concentrated activity in one field of geophysics during the IGY has already led to unexpected results of great value in understanding phenomena in another branch.

One example of this was the discovery of X-rays during auroral displays. IGY cosmic ray investigators at the Universities of Iowa and Minnesota made the discovery while they were recording cosmic ray intensity at high altitudes with balloons.

These X-rays result from electrons trapped in the "frozen in" magnetic field in plasma clouds, ejected from the sun.

The electrons in these same plasma clouds are responsible for the extraordinarily high counting rates registered at great altitudes by Geiger counters sent up in the U.S. satellite explorer by the cosmic ray group at the University of Iowa.

Produce Storms

Soviet cosmic ray investigators using detectors on the latest sputnik observed similar, but smaller, increases in counting rates at lower altitudes.

These electron-containing plasma clouds probably produce auroral and magnetic storms — if the clouds are large enough and if the magnetic field frozen in them when they leave the sun is great enough. Through scattering effects, these clouds probably cause the decreases in cosmic ray intensity which are observed during some magnetic storms.

This is the last in a series of four articles written for the Associated Press by prominent U. S. scientists who attended the International Geophysical Year meetings in Moscow last month. In it Dr. Scott E. Forbush discusses IGY programs in the specialized fields of geophysical and solar research.

Cosmic rays were discovered by Victor Hess in 1914. But it wasn't until about 1932 that experiments showed the primary cosmic rays, which impinge on the earth's outer atmosphere, consisted of charged particles of very high energy coming from all directions in space.

This experiment, in which the earth's permanent magnetic field played an important role, consisted of a worldwide survey of cosmic ray intensity using standardized instruments.

Research has shown that more cosmic rays fall at the poles than at the magnetic equator where the earth's magnetic field deflects the weaker rays. And they are found to decrease in number when the sun is active with flares and sunspots.

Observation Results

The systematic, high altitude balloon observations of H. V. Neher of the California Institute of Technology, made over a period of years at several latitudes up to North polar regions, definitely show that: (a) near sunspot minimum the cosmic ray intensity, near the top of the atmosphere, continues to increase with latitude all the way to the poles, and (2) near sunspot maximum, the intensity is constant north of about 50 degrees magnetic latitude.

Results obtained with cosmic ray nuclear component monitors by Dr. J. A. Simpson at the University of Chicago in the U.S. IGY program show a decrease of nearly 25 per cent in intensity from sunspot minimum in 1954 to sunspot maximum in 1957.

What are the primary cosmic ray particles made of? Only about 10 per cent are alpha particles, or the cores of helium atoms. The remaining 90 per cent are mostly protons, with a few per cent of particles heavier than the alpha particles.

IGY scientists at the University of Minnesota used photographic nuclear emulsions to show that the flux of alpha particles above Minnesota at sunspot maximum is only half that at sunspot minimum.

The writer, at the Carnegie Institution of Washington, established the variation of cosmic ray intensity with sunspot cycle from continuous observations with ionization chambers over two decades. These results show that even the cosmic ray particles with energies high enough to reach the magnetic equator are subject to a solar cycle variation.

Superimposed on the solar cycle variation of cosmic ray intensity are large variations which occur in some, but not all, magnetic storms. Such efforts were especially numerous in 1957. They diminish toward sunspot minimum.

Thus, pre-investigation of time variations of cosmic ray density, especially in connection with results from other IGY projects, will undoubtedly provide valuable results for better understanding electromagnetic phenomena in the solar system.

Fourth Marion Burglary Since Aug. 23 Reported

Marion — Police Chief Alfred Bazille and Sheriff Floyd Taylor are investigating the fourth burglary here since Aug. 23 today.

Thursday morning Norman "Butch" Gerbig reported someone broke into his service station and stole $60 some time Wednesday night.

The Bill's Meat market reported an attempted break-in Wednesday night. Last week burglars were successful in getting into the market and stealing money. It was one of the first of the present rash of burglaries.

The police said evidence found at the service station has indicated the burglar to be a large man.

Thirty-Eight Years of Lock Tending are behind Arthur Malchow, lockmaster at Appleton's fourth lock, north of the John street bridge. Malchow is shown at the lock mechanism as the Golden Crown, a Chicago craft, goes through in the background.

On Fox for 38 Years

Appleton Lockmaster Sees Changes on River

BY BETSY DAVIS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Boatmen are used to seeing Arthur Malchow operate Fox River locks in Appleton.

He's been a lockmaster on the Fox for over 38 years, and he's managed three of the four locks in Appleton and three at Kaukauna in that time. His present post is Appleton's fourth lock, just north of the John street bridge.

Many a lockmaster has come and gone since Malchow started in 1920—there aren't any from his beginning days tending Fox river locks now—but Malchow is still here and happy with his job.

"The Fox river valley is about as good a place to live as one could find," he says. "I take great pride in the river."

Opens Lock Gates

As lockmaster, his job involves operating gates for boats passing through, maintaining the water level, keeping the lock grounds in good condition and compiling reports for the U.S. government corps of engineers, the agency in charge of the 17 locks on the river. He and his wife live within calling distance of the lock, in a house on the lock grounds at 1050 E. John street.

River traffic has changed quite a bit since he came to the Fox, Malchow says.

"It used to be mostly freight," he recalls, "but there's only one freight tug that comes through Appleton now. Freight business has dropped off and pleasure boats are taking over."

"Now we get as many pleasure boats in one day as we got in a whole week before," Malchow says.

Trucking Hurt Freight

A thriving freight business—mostly coal—used to travel up the river from Green Bay. But a fast-growing trucking field has hurt freight trade, Malchow explains, and widespread conversion to gas has shrunk demand for coal.

Most boats back in the '20s were steam-propelled, some sidewheelers, some stern-wheelers, he says. Diesel power was in its infancy then. Nowadays it's diesel all over and outboards, anywhere from 12 to 70 feet long, have increased from relative rarity to become more common than anything else on the river.

One of the most colorful sights Malchow saw on the Fox a few decades ago were passenger excursion boats. They were much like the old Mississippi river boats, lazing down the river for a few days with several hundred passengers each trip, he says. The excursions were popular summer entertainment 30 years ago, but they've since disappeared.

Most boat traffic today comes from several diesel tugs and barges owned by area paper mills, what little coal freight trade still exists, govern m e n t maintenance boats and the many pleasure crafts.

Malchow's job wasn't the same when he entered the lock business as it is today either. "I came during Harding's administration," he says.

"The job was a sure place to sleep and eat. I was glad to get it." But the hours were long and the pay was small.

Now it's just the opposite, says Malchow—the hours are short and the pay is good. What's more, safety measures are much improved. Double railings have been added to lock gates and electric lights now illuminate the locks at night.

Unusual Boats
Malchow has seen his share of unusual boats in his nearly four decades of lock tending. He's locked through a boat from Cuba and several canoes paddling from Montreal to the Gulf of Mexico. The biggest he can recall was a 122-ton, 87-foot craft, the Patsea II, on its way to the 1952 Regatta.

Malchow's start was made at the second lock in Kaukauna, near the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company mill where he was in charge of all three Kaukauna locks. After fourteen months there, he took over Appleton's second lock, east of the Oneida street bridge, and third lock, east of the Lave street bridge. He was transferred to the fourth lock 11 years ago.

The Malchows have four children, three boys and a girl, all grown and living in Appleton. The whole family was born at the home near the third lock—"There wasn't good hospital care for mothers then," says Mrs. Malchow. The couple has thirteen grandchildren.

Malchow plans to retire early next summer. He and his wife will move to their summer home at Green lake, near Mountain.

Unmindful of the solemnity of the occasion, 5-year-old Tommy Crouch, Pewaukee, offers Gov. Peiping Stand Seen as Prod To Russians ing American military help to nationalist China actually is aggression.

It's highly doubtful that the U.S.S.R. wants to be dragged into a world war situation now. Peiping seems to be reminding the Kremlin that the red Chinese have the power to bring this about.

Washington's response—that the United States is prepared to use timely and effective force, if necessary, to save islands essential to Formosa's defense—tells both the Russians and the red Chinese they run a risk of starting a third world war.

In the long run, U.S. policy probably will be unable to save Formosa from being taken over by the red Chinese. The political task becomes more difficult each day, and even Peiping itself seems to have reflected an awareness that Formosa some day will fall to the mainland Chinese without military force or the risk of war.

Hidden Blackmail

But perhaps the red Chinese would like to hasten this process. Thus it is highly possible red China is engaging in a bit of disguised blackmail—against the Russians. The red Chinese may hope the upshot of all this hullabaloo over the islands will be a summit conference, at Soviet insistence, with Peiping sitting in as a great power. In addition, there is an opportunity in this to prod Moscow for more economic and even military assistance.

Peiping may see its attendance at a summit conference as a first step toward winning Formosa. The next logical step would be the ouster of nationalist China from the United Nations and a stampede of diplomatic recognition for Peiping.

The Russians, for all their loud propaganda, never seemed too anxious to have the red Chinese free-wheeling in world councils and posing as the

Russell Says Britain Was Discourteous

London — British philosopher Bertrand Russell today protested what he called

"gross discourtesy by British authorities toward Linus Pauling, Nobel prize winner and foe of nuclear weapons tests.

Russell declared the British government had restricted the American scientist's stay here because he has vigorously opposed Britain's H-bomb tests in the Pacific. Pauling, a Nobel prize winner in chemistry for work in molecular structures, claimed last year that 1,000 persons would die of leukemia if Britain carried out her Pacific tests. He further claimed that 10,000 persons around the world were dead or dying because of atomic or hydrogen bomb tests.

Lord Russell, himself an opponent of nuclear testing, charged in a letter to the Times that:

When he arrived at London airport Aug. 31, Pauling was separated from other passengers by immigration authorities.

Accusation Made

The American scientist, here to address the London Chemical society Sept. 15 and a meeting organized by the campaign for nuclear disarmament Sept. 22, was questioned about the purposes of his visit and was accused of lying.

Britain's home office at first ruled Pauling must leave the country by Sept. 15, then extended his permit to Sept. 16. The government explained its action on grounds that it does not admit people who come to take part in public meetings against government policy.

"This action by the British authorities is shocking," Russell said.

Pauling resigned last June as head of the chemistry and great power of Asia. They have dragged their feet in the business of pushing for a Peiping seat in the United Nations. The red Chinese now may be giving the Russians the shock treatment.

2 U. S. Judges Rule Against Integration

ies of Fayetteville, Bentonville, Charleston and Hoxie proceeded with integration yesterday without incident.

At schools in Great Mills, Md., Hopkinsville, Ky., and Winston-Salem, N. C., racial barriers went down and there were no reports of trouble.

In Gulfport, Miss., the Rev. Clennon King, a Negro minister, said he planned to continue efforts to enroll his daughter in all white school. His wife, however, enrolled the 6-year-old girl in a Negro school at Woodbine, Ga., yesterday.

May Change Ruling

At Alexandria, Va., Federal District Judge Albert J. Bryan authorized Arlington county to open its schools Monday on a segregated basis. He emphasized that his order does not nullify the right of 30 Negro pupils to transfer to white schools later if he finds they are entitled to such transfers.

Bryan said he will make his final ruling after the supreme court rules in the Little Rock case. The high court will hear arguments in the Little Rock case Sept. 11.

On other Virginia legal front, Federal District Judge Walter E. Hoffman upheld the Norfolk school board's action in rejecting eight Negroes' applications for admission to a white school. The board said even if admitted to the school, the eight would be transferred to a new Negro school to be built in time for enrollment next September. The judge agreed with the board that this would involve too many transfers for the best interests of the applicants.

Japan Asked to Deny U. S. Use of Bases

Tokyo — Japan's opposition socialist party demanded today that the government deny the United States use of bases in Japan in the event of a shooting war with red China over the offshore islands.

The minority party also called on Foreign Minister Aichihiro Fujiyama to negotiate with Secretary of State Dulles for a curb on the presently unrestricted use by America of its Japanese bases. Fujiyama is due in Washington next week.

Taipei, Formosa — A Chinese policewoman and an American military policeman plan to join in lawful union. Pretty Hsin Tui-hsin, 21, announced today at the South Formosan town of Tainan that she will be wed Sunday to Airman Victory M. Torrey of San Bernardino, Calif.

Miss Hsin said she plans to continue police work after the marriage.

100,000 Troops

The importance of the Quemoy islands to the nationalists was underlined by Liu's disclosure that they have 100,000 troops there. This is far higher than previously believed. "Right now there is no need to bring any forces there (to the Quemoy) but supplies are the problem," the nationalist spokesman said. "There is a limit beyond which we alone will not be able to solve the problem."

Despite the present lull in two weeks of communist shelling against the offshore islands, Liu said Quemoy is threatened with a sea and artillery blockade.

"I admit that it is effective and that its effectiveness is increasing," he said. "Nevertheless it is not yet completely successful from the enemy point of view."

Reject New Claim

Liu added that he did not know whether the military lull on Quemoy was permanent but "we hope it is." He said the communists have hurled an estimated 145,500 shells at the offshore islands since their bombardment began Aug. 23 and the nationalists had fired about 42,000 at the reds.

He claimed nationalist shellings had destroyed 36 to 40 communist gun emplacements, four other military positions, one ammunition dump and one gasoline dump.

In rejecting the new Chinese sea border, the nationalist foreign ministry claimed that the Chiang Kai-shek regime is the only government that can lawfully speak for China.

The nationalist foreign ministry spokesman termed the communist proclamation null and void. He said it had "no standing in international law."

"The only government that can make any decisions regarding China is the (nationalist) government of the Republic of China which is recognized by the majority of nations of the world," said Spokesman Kiang Yi-seng.

The communist declaration was taken in some quarters here as an attempt to forestall seventh fleet ships from escorting nationalist supply vessels whose trips to embattled Quemoy island have been curtailed by red gunfire.

There have been persistent reports—without official confirmation—that the United States is about to start such escort duty. However, the island is stocked with enough provisions to carry on for several months at least, according to correspondents who visited Quemoy this week. Nationalist officials wel-

Brothers Bring In Crippled Air Guard Plane

Milwaukee — Maj. Howard Mattes and his brother, Sgt. Jerome Mattes, teamed up Thursday to bring in a Wisconsin Air National Guard C47 transport plane with one of its two engines in flames.

Jerome spotted an oil leak in the engine and Howard, the pilot, feathered the engine's propeller, but flames broke out seconds later. Howard brought the crippled plane into its home base at General Mitchell field. There were no injuries.

The C47 was on a routine flight as a target ship for radar equipped fighter-bombers.

U.S. rejection of the red 12-mile limit. Many nations have long held to the traditional 3-mile concept and have regarded waters beyond that as the high seas.

Japan also rejected Peiping's action as not being "legitimate under international laws."

"As attested by recent squeals from the State Chairman of the Democratic Party, Madison Democrats are already worried over the prospect of Mark Catlin's return to the Wisconsin Legislature. All the more reason we Republicans must assure his return!"

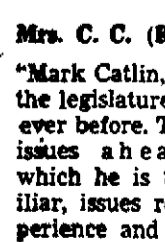

Mrs. John (Joan) Stevens:

"Outagamie County needs the representation an experienced and capable legislator like Mark Catlin, Jr. can offer. He should be returned to the assembly to continue the distinguished record he made there."

The People and the Primary

The writers on state politics, taking their cues from the managers of the political parties and the candidates who have been affield this summer, are forecasting the usual "light vote" for the primary elections Tuesday.
Much as we may regret their joint prognosis, they are probably quite right. It is their business to report conditions and prospects as they are, rather than as they ought to be or might be in an ideal republic.

In any test, the nomination of candidates is as vital in the functioning of a democratic society as is the ultimate election of men to public place.
Those who default on primary election day, through indifference, or ignorance, or forgetfulness, or whatever, are saying in effect that they are content to permit a minority of their fellows to put the candidates on the final and decisive ballot.
To that extent they are only half-voters — assuming that they actually record their vote in the November balloting. They are limiting their choice to tickets controlled by others — in total refutation of the idealistic conceptions of the laws early in this century that put the nomination process into the hands of the people.

The Realistic Junior Senator

In some of his techniques, and surely in his unwearied attention to voters, the junior senator from Wisconsin who was elected in a special election a year ago is an extraordinary politician in a state which has produced its share of extraordinary politicians.
But not the least of Sen. Proxmire's distinguishing characteristics is a capacity for hard and factual analysis of the practical political situation in which he finds himself.
Whatever else may be said about him, it cannot be said that he is given to kidding himself about his tentative and highly insecure position as one of the ranking public men of the state.
Witness the shrewd warnings given in his messages to his followers at the several "victory celebrations" held in his honor recently. There was no easy confidence about the outlook in his remarks. This was not the speech of the man who fancies that he will have an easy path to a full term in the United States senate. This was the analysis of a man who has thought long and carefully about Wisconsin electoral history and performance and has absorbed his lessons well.
Incumbency is surely an advantage as it always is in measuring the outlook in a political contest.
But Mr. Proxmire is the only state-wide

Is It Important Who Pays?

The history of ambulance service in the Appleton area has been a sorry one — and it is not always the fault of the ambulance operators. The story of emergency ambulance service has included the question, "Who is going to pay for this?" before the ambulance was called or sent out.
This question has been asked by law enforcement agencies and the operators themselves.
It is fairly well known by those in traffic work and the newspapermen who cover this area that the county and the city area are divided — sort of informally — into "so-and-so's territory and this-and-that's territory."
What throws this neat arrangement off is the unfortunate fact that parts of Calumet and Winnebago counties near Appleton are so far removed from their respective county seats and main county area, that patrol is often inadequate.
Worse yet, ambulance and wrecker service to the Waverly beach area is often at the caprice of a radio operator, rather than a matter of calling the nearest service which could arrive quickest.
The emergence of the state highway patrol has eased the problem of patrolling the Highway 10 and 114 sections along Waverly beach in Calumet and Winnebago counties.
However, a recent incident in which a father backed his car over his 3-year-old son after the boy had fallen from the car has raised the ambulance question again.
The state patrol called for the nearest ambulance. In this case it was the Neenah facility.

House Committee Adds Voice to Complaints on Bilkings by Charity

From the Casper, Wyo., Tribune Herald
Now the House Veterans committee has added its voice to the many complaining that the public is being bilked in some money-raising campaigns conducted in the name of veterans' groups. The committee spoke particularly of unscrupulous professional fund raisers, but it also singled out organizations.
For instance, it said the Disabled American Veterans, which gets most of its money from the sale of car key identification tags, spent $312,000 of its funds collected for veterans on a speculative television program that flopped.
Also, the committee said, DAV spent more than $50,000 from 1950 to 1957 for gifts, most of which were bought by a national officer from a supply company in which he owned stock.
Some years ago a New York legislative committee, investigating this same fundraising activity, reported that more than 90 per cent of the money received in donations went to expenses — less than 10 per cent to veterans' benefits.
DAV is chartered by congress, and certainly congress can do something in the circumstances.
What the house committee suggests be done, however, centers mainly on the unordered merchandise gimmick, which is something of a racket that seemingly merits attention in itself.
The committee would:
Require fuller disclosure of organizations chartered by congress or organizations mailing unordered items, such as ball point pens, with the aim of collecting money in the name of veterans; and Require that at least 50 per cent of gross income from unordered merchandise sent through the mails be spent for the veterans in whose name purchase of it is solicited.
The committee expresses doubt that the American people would be as liberal in support of some fund-raising programs of veterans' organizations if they knew that such a small percentage of the contributions were used for charitable purposes. Well, one way to find out what goes to charity and what to expenses is to require publication of a financial accounting of charitable solicitations. Wyoming made a faltering start in that direction some years ago with a proposal that fund-raising organizations be required to register and make annual reports to the secretary of state. There expectedly was a lively resistance.

But with charitable demand greater than the ability to meet it, the public is entitled to know how its money is used.
Game Wardens' Plea
From the Wayne County News, Waynesboro, Miss.
According to the Antigo, Wis., Journal, this is the time of the year when game wardens renew their pleas of leaving the young wildlife alone, regardless of whether it is deer, bear or birds. Wildlife does not desert its young and there is no need for a human search for deserted babies. Interfering with the young of wildlife is both anti-conservation and illegal.

Looking Backward

Stone Pier Under Construction

79 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Sept. 6, 1879.
The Government engineers are again making Appleton the scene of extensive improvements, this time in the rear of the pulp mills on the Government canal and consisting in a long stone pier extending from the upper dam to the first lock.
We have no doubt the work is sadly needed and that the usual economy and wisdom characterizes this, as other things connected with the engineering of these Fox River improvements.
We would like to suggest, however, that there is a bare possibility of fallibility even in a Government engineer, evinced by the fact that dangerous places in the river are neglected while immense sums are spent on work which must be considered largely ornamental. Magnificent locks are put in at Kaukauna and Little Chute, while about a mile above this city, the bed of the river is made dangerous by the presence of large boulders. In the harbor at Menasha there is also a Hell Gate on a small scale, which should be removed by blasting. There is too much red tape and too little regard for necessity in all this Government business.

Riot Control? Just Pass Hat

From The LaCrosse Tribune
A Scotsman had just applied for admittance to the New York police force. After passing the physical test he was given one in general knowledge.
"Now then," said the inspector, glowering, "how would you act in dispersing a very large and argumentative crowd?"
"Weel," replied the Scotsman, scratching his head and looking puzzled, "I'm no too sure how ye do it here in New York, but doon in Aberdeen we just pass the hat round and they soon begin to shuffle off."

In the interest of putting such voters as may be interested on their guard, we continue today a Wisconsin political dictionary, with explanations and definitions of common words, phrases and ideas as they are routinely employed on the campaign stump and in the publicity mills of Wisconsin politicians and parties, to wit:

Benefits Represent Real Money

From the Los Angeles Times
It is natural for employees to regard the figures on their pay checks as representing their income and to discount fringe benefits — and not only wage earners but also those who keep an eye on average national income.
But the fringe benefits represent real money; the U. S. Chamber of Commerce reports that fringe benefits received by employees in 1957 averaged nearly $1,000, an increase of $162 since 1955. That's hardly a fringe.
The study undertaken by the chamber included more than 1,000 representative firms and it adds force to the conclusion that hourly rates and weekly wages no longer accurately measure either worker income or labor costs.
Fringe benefits include such items as pensions, insurance, vacations, holidays, social security and unemployment compensation programs.

Another Danger Zone in Mideast

From the Syracuse Herald-Journal
Alexandretta is a Turkish province at the northeast tip of the Mediterranean. It could at any time become a danger zone with the trouble-making potential of Sarajevo, where World War I started.
In 1939 — the pre-World War II era when the Allies were courting Turkey — France held the League of Nations mandate over Syria-Lebanon. The French detached the Alexandretta area and gave it to Turkey.
Syria objected violently. Thousands of Arabs in the ceded area became refugees in Syria. A League plebiscite had been overwhelmingly against annexation.
The Syrian nationalists want Alexandretta back. The leading seaport would be the western end of projected pipelines from the Mosul oil fields in Iraq and the Qum fields in Iran.
At the moment it is relatively obscure. Overnight it may become as familiar a name as Suez, Beirut and Baghdad.

Compares With Guinness

Joanne Woodward

Girl of Many Faces

BY JAMES BACON
AP Motion Picture Writer

Hollywood — (U) — No one commented on it at the time but this year's two top Academy award winners — Alec Guinness and Joanne Woodward — have a lot in common. Guinness long has been known as a faceless actor or, paradoxically, the man with a thousand faces. Joanne, who won an Oscar for "The Three Faces of Eve," actually is the girl of a thousand faces.

ent character than the last time. "I'm not a personality so unless I'm a character, I'm nobody." That, she says, is why she went from the three different persons in "The Three Faces of Eve" to the southern floozie in "No Down Payment" to the frustrated spinster in "The Long, Hot Summer" to the busy-body housewife in "Rally Around the Flag, Boys!" In her next picture she will portray a girl 11 years younger than her real age of 28.

"I don't believe I have a personality of my own in any cinema sense of the word," she continues. "I take on the coloring of people around me. When I was in England recently, I found myself speaking with a precise British accent within a week — and fooling the natives." In "Rally Around the Flag, Boys!" she plays opposite her real-life husband, Paul Newman. The part calls for her to wear a fluffy hair-do. She went straight from the hairdresser to the commissary to have lunch with Newman. He came in, looked around for his wife but didn't spot her — although he looked straight at her several times. When she finally yelled at him, he took one look and could only say: "Shirley Temple, I'd know you anywhere."

The Girl of a Thousand Faces is Joanne Woodward, who won an Academy award Oscar for her work in "The Three Faces of Eve." She believes her box office success is based on being a different character in each film appearance.

Gregory Peck Turns Producer for Film, 'The Big Country'

New York — (U) — Inside every Hollywood actor today just produced a blockbuster

there is a producer struggling to get out. Producer Gregory Peck has just emerged from actor Gregory Peck. With his partner, William Wyler, he has western called "The Big Country." It is in color and it cost $4 million. Peck is hopeful it will prove the boxoffice equal of "Duel in the Sun," which helped rocket him to fame just 13 years ago.

The actor, who worked briefly as barker at the New York World's Fair in 1939, is now on a 3-week nationwide promotion tour for the picture.

It's more than hair-dos, Joanne believes. It's something inside her. The movies' great box-office draws always have been definite personalities both on and off screen.

Premier of New Cinerama Film at Chicago Theater

A voyage of discovery through the South Pacific is the theme of the new Cinerama attraction, "Cinerama-South Seas Adventure" which will premiere Thursday, Sept. 18 at the Palace theater in Chicago under the sponsorship of the Community Fund-Red Cross Joint Appeal of Chicago.

A Cinerama crew of 18 men and 11 tons of equipment traveled across the Pacific by plane, sailing schooner and luxury liner to film the story. Sequences were filmed in Hawaii, Tahiti, Tonga, the Fiji Islands, New Hebrides, New Zealand and Australia.

Several interlocking stories make up the content and vastness of scene of the new Cinerama production. Three young actors playing in the romantic Hawaiian sequence are Diane Beardmore, a slender Hawaiian, surfboard champion Tommy Zahn and model Marlene Lizzio. The outstanding Tahitian dancer, Ramine, 18, plays the feminine lead in the story set in Tahiti. Other features include the presentation of Handel's "Messiah" in Polynesian by a church choir, and the story of land "down under" with its kangaroos, koala bears, great cities and rugged ranches.

Ann Blyth To Sing in Night Clubs

Hollywood — (U) — Ann Blyth, long famed as the screen's "little lady," is embarking on a new career as a night club singer.

She kicks off with the Coconut Grove in Los Angeles, then the Sahara hotel in Las Vegas and on to New York and Miami Beach.

"All the movie scripts offered wanted me to go to Europe and for such long times," she explains. "I just felt that I couldn't be separated from my family that long."

Ann's husband is Dr. James McNulty, a Los Angeles obstetrician. He just can't pack up his practice and join his wife. She broke in her act last weekend in Phoenix, Ariz., and her husband couldn't even make it for opening night. A baby that arrived a few weeks ahead of schedule interfered.

The night-club money is big and, with the exception of New York and Miami, all five McNultys can stay together. Ann's husband will take his vacation while she's in Vegas. "I think long separations, no matter how understanding the husband or wife, have broken up more Hollywood marriages than any other single factor. No script is worth that," she says.

CHRIS MULLEN PROPOSES:

- To Work for Lower Taxes
- More Good Highways
- Conservation of Our Natural Resources
- Reforestation and Recreation

Along with our great manufacturing plants, Wisconsin vacation land is known throughout the nation and should be promoted. Out of state tourists spend many hundreds of thousands of dollars in our state every year.

Thanks to the splendid and courageous work of our fellow citizen Senator Gordon Bubolz through his indefatigable and tenacious efforts we will have in our vicinity miles and miles of park on the shores of beautiful lake Winnebago. He should and will have my support to further improve this beautiful playgrounds open to all the people.

I promise further to do all in my power to cut extravagance in state spending. More effort should be made to do a good job, rather than finding new ways of taxing the people, who already are over burdened with taxes both state and federal.

I will work to the end that state spending agencies be limited to a lower budget. It appears to the average citizen that millions are spent in certain agencies without thought of economy.

Amateur Statisticians to be Busy With Results of Voting

Primary Elections Likely to Show Heavy Democratic Participation

BY JOHN WINGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
Madison — The amateur statisticians among political partisans of Wisconsin are likely to be busy with their calculations next Wednesday. There is a reasonable possibility that the primary elections next Tuesday, reversing the trend of many previous decades, will show a heavy participation in the Democratic nominations. Some Democrats are predicting — with an eye upon pre-primary publicity values — that they will out-poll the Republicans. Such an event would be of historic dimensions. Never have the Democrats attracted as many primary electors as the Republicans. Interested Voters Such voters as are interested will go to the polls in more than 3,000 precincts. All indications are that the total vote, however, will be relatively light. Typically only about half of the general election turnout is recorded in Wisconsin primary elections. While most politicians and professional observers of political affairs agree that the outlook is for a relatively heavy Democratic primary vote, there is little agreement on the meaning of such a showing should it come about. It is evident that the mechanics of the situation favors the Democrats. Voters tend to choose that primary ballot (straight ticket voting is required in the nomination process) that shows competition and rivalry. The Republicans have relatively few contests. Most of their principal candidates are incumbents who are not being challenged for the right to wear the party label again. Democratic Contests Democrats have many contests, for state offices, except for governor, for congressional nominations, and of most significance in measuring the November outlook, for legislative and courthouse office nominations. In the abundance of their candidates this year the Democrats read hopeful signs. The collective judgment of local office-seekers apparently is that the Democratic party's prospects are improving. Whether the attraction of voters into the Democratic column to resolve nomination contests suggests a trend in favor of the party in November is the provocative question of state politics. Democrats are sure that it does, and will surely issue joyous claims about such a trend if they get the higher primary turnout they look for. Republicans will pooh-pooh it, and say that many Republican voters were attracted only by the rivalry and the chance to make their votes count. For those of either point of view, there will be interesting comparisons to be made after the vote totals are published. High Proportion In nearly half a century since the primary has been used in Wisconsin, the Democrats have averaged 20 percent of the primary turnout, to the Republicans' 80 percent. There have been radical fluctuations, depending upon issues and primary ballot contests. The total has been as high as 46 per cent, in 1912, and as low as 2.5 per cent, in 1930 when the party was in danger of extinction under election law requirements of a popular following. Lately the proportion has been higher, 40 per cent each in 1954 and 1956, when the party in the succeeding November elections pulled up within threatening distance of the ruling Republicans. The apparent relation between those primary and November election trends is one of the factors with which the Democrats encourage themselves and their campaign workers. Yet in the long procession of elections since the Secretary James C. Hagerty said yesterday he knows of no plans for such a study. By law enacted in 1818, another star must be added to the flag next Independence day—the first July 4 following admission of the new state. There has been no established procedure for rearranging the flag. In 1912 President William Howard Taft approved the present 48-star design which was recommended by an army-navy board after Arizona and New Mexico joined the union. Before that, the military services generally decided on the flag's design and others just followed suit, without presidential order. During the session of congress just ended, the house passed a bill, by Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) spelling out general procedures for rearrangement of the flag. The measure died in the late rush for adjournment. The bill would have called on the president to take steps toward effecting any necessary redesign. Supporters of the legislation said there should be no obstacle to the president proceeding even without congressional authorization. Incidentally, citizens won't have to throw away their flags after next July 4 if they are not of the new 49-star variety. A presidential order allows flags on hand when a new state is admitted to be used until they become unserviceable.

Face Decision On Adding Star to Flag

Washington — Old Glory will boast another star next year to represent America's newest and biggest state, Alaska. But where the star will be placed in the national flag has not been officially decided. Congressional sources say President Eisenhower may announce a study on how best to rearrange the 48 stars that have represented the states. However, Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said yesterday he knows of no plans for such a study. By law enacted in 1818, another star must be added to the flag next Independence day—the first July 4 following admission of the new state. There has been no established procedure for rearranging the flag. In 1912 President William Howard Taft approved the present 48-star design which was recommended by an army-navy board after Arizona and New Mexico joined the union. Pro-West Ceylon Leader to Make Comeback Try

London — Sir John Kotelawala, Ceylon's last pro-western prime minister, flew to his troubled homeland today seeking to stage a political comeback. "There are so many communists in my country that a stand must be made now," he told newsmen. Kotelawala, head of the united national party government which was unseated in the 1956 election, quit politics last year and came to Britain to farm. He had won fame as a statesman for his sharp attacks on "communist colonialism."

Civilian, Military Radar Equipment to Be Put in Use Jointly

Washington — A large scale merger of civilian and military long range radar equipment to scan the skyways was announced by the government Tuesday. Joint use of the electronic eyes for civil air traffic control and for air defense is expected to save many millions of dollars and allow smoother performance of both types of operations. Civil Aeronautics Administrator James T. Pyle and Lt. Gen. J. H. Atkinson, chief of the air defense command, announced the program scheduled to go into effect some time this fall. Initial plans call for joint use of 31 high-power radar facilities with aircraft spotting capability reported at 135-200 miles. More radar sets are planned for the joint service later.

Freshman Week

Lawrence Expects Largest Number Of Students Since World War II

Largest group of new students to arrive on the Lawrence college campus since the flooded days at the end of World War II will appear on Sept. 10 for orientation before the school year actually begins. Three hundred thirty newcomers are expected this year, a 15 per cent rise over last season. The total student body will number 890, or an over-all 10 per cent rise. A slightly shortened orientation schedule appears this year to save all possible time toward a between-semester midwinter vacation, requested by both faculty and students. Moving-in day is Wednesday, Sept. 10, and the first event on the calendar is a coffee hour for parents from 1 o'clock to 3 o'clock in Memorial union. During the same hours, the parents will have opportunity to see Lawrence's newly produced movie titled "A River, A College, A Town" which will be shown several times in the Worcester art center. Placement Tests Meanwhile, new students will receive their appointment books at Memorial chapel and hear an address of welcome at 3:15 by Dean Marshall B. Hulbert. From 4 o'clock to 5 o'clock the newcomers will attend departmental survey meetings in Main hall and that evening, from 7 o'clock to 9 o'clock, President and Mrs. Douglas M. Knight will give their traditional reception in the art center. The emphasis is on testing on Thursday. There will be placement examinations in English, foreign languages, science, music, European history and mathematics at varying hours during the day. It is now possible for Lawrence students to "write out" of certain requirements for graduation if their placement tests prove competence in those fields. An exchange luncheon between the dormitories at noon, dinners at Appleton churches at 5:30, and deans' conferences at 9 o'clock are other highlights of the day. Formal registration with faculty advisors and physical examinations begin Friday, while transfer students will hold their own orientation meeting with the deans at 1:30. Late in the afternoon, there will be a student government convocation, followed by a picnic on the riverbank below the union and a pep rally. House meetings for both men and women are scheduled for 9 o'clock that evening. Greek Rushing A panel on "What Is A Liberal Arts Education" is the highlight of Saturday, Sept. 13, at 10:30 in Memorial union. Registration will continue through the day, and there will be planned recreation and veterans meetings before the evening entertainment of exchange supper and Bermuda shorts dance in the union. Greek rushing will occupy Sunday afternoon, while in the

Lighting Fixtures Decorator Items

Builders Recognize the Fashion Appeal of Glamorous New Units

Lighting fixtures are causing as much excitement in new homes as built-in appliances, colored bathroom fixtures, and air conditioning.

Hanging high, wide, and handsome from ceilings and walls, fixtures immediately catch the eye and add a bright, festive note to the rooms. They're the mark of a home built for the comfort and visual enjoyment of the owners.

"Previously, fixtures were considered only for their light," the American Home Lighting institute explained. "Today, a lighting fixture is a glamorous-decorator item, as well as an aid to better seeing."

Fashion Appeal

Builders have recognized the fashion appeal of fixtures and are installing a greater number of high-quality fixtures per home.

Here are some of the current style trends.

Fixtures are becoming much larger. A few years ago, a 10 or 12-inch diameter fixture was considered large.

The result is not only better lighting, but striking beauty for the home. Most often, these larger fixtures are found in living rooms and dining rooms, with 2-foot fixtures popular for bedrooms.

Materials are more varied than ever. Glass is being combined with polished and brushed metals, as well as with wood veneers and cloth to provide fixtures for every occasion. Bamboo and wrought iron are used for light, airy effects.

Standard Equipment

Fixtures looking like costly custom-made products are now being provided in many homes as standard equipment. Many builders will give buyers a choice of fixtures, allowing them to choose from a sparkling display in a distributor or contractor showroom.

Clusters of light are replacing single-fixture effects. Until recently, a fixture's three or four bulbs were grouped together behind a single diffusing shield. Today, many decorator fixtures suspend each bulb separately in a high-fashion shield of its own.

A single ceiling fixture can support as many as five or six of these individual lights. This allows the homemaker to suspend one light over a chair, another over a low table, and another over a piano, and perhaps a fourth above a painting.

Sometimes the shielded bulbs hang in a single cluster, providing a dramatic display of shimmering light.

Peace, Quiet Plus Values In New Home

Peace and quiet are two commodities ranking high in the list of plus values that have been incorporated into new homes.

Today's home buyer can achieve a tranquilizing effect all his own in his dream castle—thanks to the increased use of acoustical tile in ceilings and walls. Perforation in the tile absorbs as much as 30 to 40 percent of the noise which ordinarily would rebound into a room.

Use of acoustical tile is especially effective in hi-fi or television corners—the viewer or listener can obtain maximum enjoyment without disturbing other family members who happen to be nearby.

Engineers report that acoustical tiles, until recently or he sleeps with the dalmatians principally in modern office buildings to reduce noise level, are winning fast favor in family rooms, dens, recreation rooms, and other rooms of private residences.

Teens Team Up to Drive Car but Forget Brakes

Mansfield, Ohio — (UP) — It was an unusual arrangement, all right, and it was done to impress two girl friends in the car, two teenage boys told the judge.

But the girls said they weren't impressed, and neither was the judge.

The youths were observed by a state highway patrolman as they drove 70 m.p.h. toward Mansfield on U.S. 308. One boy, 18, was in the back seat, leaning over the front seat driving. His companion, 17, was on the right hand side of the front seat operating the gas pedal.

Before suspending their driver's licenses, the judge asked, "Who was operating the brakes?"

The youths forgot to arrange for that.

The Investor

Grolier Is Good Investment Stock, Brush Beryllium Currently a Risk

BY WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. Until nine months ago I never believed that salaried, dependable people like myself (I'm 35, married, two children) should invest in the stock market. Then I bought several "blue chip" stocks and, as of now, I'm ahead, on paper. These stocks were purchased for the children, with long-term growth in mind.

However, I would like to try a small speculation in the over-the-counter market. My broker mentions Grolier society as a safe stock and Brush Beryllium as a good speculation. What do you think of them?

A. Just about the same thing your broker does. Grolier must be considered an investment-grade stock. This encyclopedia and reference book publishing outfit has done well in the postwar years. Its stock has picked up more and more stability as the firm prospered.

Taking Risk

In Brush Beryllium, you would be taking on a risk. If you're ready and willing to do so, nobody's going to stop you. You're a big boy now.

This stock is selling on its potential, not its current earnings. I hope you realize that. The company has the technical know-how in the rapidly expanding beryllium metal field. If things go well, it should prosper. But it's bound to suffer setbacks from time to time. All growth stocks, especially those in new industries, are likely to.

I'm glad you got over the notion that "substantial people" shouldn't invest. Did you think that the millions of investors in this country were unsound?

Don't Sell

Q. Since 1929, I have been buying one stock—Best and Company. I now have quite a number of shares. I also own some government bonds. Would you advise me to sell all of this and invest in something else?

A. No, I would not. If you have been buying Best common stock steadily over the years, you should be way ahead. You have seen this issue through some trying times. And now it has solid investment appeal for sustained growth plus good dividend income. Even at its current price, it yields close to 6 per cent. Don't make a false move at this late date.

If your bonds are savings bonds, you can always redeem them for the price you paid plus their accrued interest. If they are the other type that are traded in the market, they are probably selling below their face value right now. That's because the government bond market has been weak lately. But you can hold them until they mature and still get all your money back. Meanwhile, you will have collected interest.

Cyclist Has Nothing Except Noisy Muffler

Milwaukee — (UP) — Ronald Leach, a 19-year-old motorcycle enthusiast, was hauled into district court for not having a headlight, taillight, brakelights, a light over his license plate, a horn and a speedometer. A noisy muffler attracted the arresting officer.

"Apparently this man was operating with nothing," commented Judge Frank Gregorowski as he fined Leach $1 and fore going ahead with your charges.

This Do It Yourself cabinet will be an ideal storage place for a guest folding bed. It is easily constructed from plywood.

Here's How

Fold-Up Bed Space Can Serve as Room Divider

BY VIVIAN BROWN

Treat your fold-up guest bed to a new home—a storage place right in the room where it may be used. Then, when your guest gets sleepy, you won't be tempted to flip the bed down from the attic.

This is supposed to be a do-it-yourself project, so you should have an inkling of how to use a level, saw and sandpaper. Dimensions vary with the size of the bed, but in any case the unit can serve as a room divider or decorative addition.

The unit is a plywood box with no bottom, with doors at one end and a desk shelf along the side. You'll need two panels of three-quarter inch fir plywood for the sides and doors, a few feet of one-by-four and one-by-two lumber for the door stop and desk brackets, and hardware for the doors and desk.

The body, built much like a box, must be put together by glueing and nailing all joints. Fasten the end panel between the side pieces, then insert and fasten the top. Position the structure against the wall of the room, cutting out a section of baseboard to fit the unit tightly against the wall. Fasten the whole assembly to the wall with screws driven through the back panel into the wall.

Put a metal fitting—brass, aluminum or steel—to anchor the front of the storage cabinet at the base. Leave space on either side of the length of the metal so your bed wheels may slide easily through the spaces. Screw the anchor to the floor.

The desk which may be used on either side of the unit is not the full length of the cabinet, but is cut shorter so the cabinet doors may swing back. You'll need brackets for the desk. Cut them from 1 x 4 lumber. Fit doors allowing for 1 inch or more bottom clearance, hanging them with cabinet hinges—either pin-type or mortised butt hinges. Supply pulls and catches.

Nail Holes

Fill nail holes and the edge grain with filler, sand the unit until smooth, and then finish it to match the room decor. Sand each coat of paint before applying the next to insure a slick finish. Some of the new adhesive backed wallpapers that are easy to use may make a nice contrast to painted walls when used on this unit. A brick pattern, for instance, may give an unusual effect with trailing variegated ivy and geraniums gracing the top of the bed storage unit. The top may also be used for books.

If you build this unit for a double bed it will be more on the long side. If built for a coil or link spring bed, it may need to be wider than you'd expect, so it is a good idea to measure the bed carefully before going ahead with your project.

The Top Four Contestants, after the first and second preliminary contest to decide Miss America 1959, are Miss California, Sandra Lee Jennings, Miss Mississippi, Mary Ann Mobley, Miss Connecticut, Billie June Turner, and Miss Indiana, Anita Marie Hursh, left to right. Miss Indiana and Miss California took honors in the swim suit division. Miss Mississippi and Miss Connecticut won the talent division. The third preliminary contest will be held tonight and the finals on Saturday evening.

Ballerina Wins Second Night Of Competition at Atlantic City

Atlantic City, N. J. — Twelve years of ballet lessons paid off last night for a Connecticut girl entered in the 1958 Miss America pageant.

Billie Jean Turner, 20, of New Canaan danced her way to victory in the second preliminary talent competition with her interpretation of Chopin's "Les Sylphides."

In the second night of swim suit competition, meanwhile, Miss Indiana, whose favorite sport is swimming, showed her winning form and got the Judges' nod.

While Billie Jean performed before a panel of 11 judges and a Convention hall crowd of 7,700 persons, Anita Marie Hursh of Goshen, Ind., waltzed off with her own prize.

Student at De Pauw
Anita Marie, a 19-year-old sophomore at De Pauw university in Greencastle, Ind., stands 5-6½ inches tall, weighs 120 pounds and measures 34½-24-35.

The dark brunette, whose father is an optometrist, provided quite an eye-fest as she paraded about in a white latex swim suit against 16 others in that category.

Anita Marie's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Hursh, and her 16-year-old brother, Stanley, and sister, Lonnie, 14, were on hand to cheer her on.

Billie Jean, who automatically receives a $1,000 scholarship for winning the talent competition, said she will use it to continue her dancing studies.

For her dance against 17

other talent competitors, Miss Connecticut wore a traditional white ballet costume with satin bodice and white net ballerina-length skirt. A wreath of flowers encircled her head.

Young Actress Seberg Will Wed Frenchman

Marshalltown, Iowa — Townsfolk of actress Jean Seberg appeared today to be respecting her wishes for a quiet, simple wedding without fanfare.

"People here look upon it mostly as they would the case of any home town girl coming back to be married in the church of her girlhood," said one of Jean's relatives.

Miss Seberg, 19, now of New York City, will be married at 4 o'clock this afternoon to Francois Moreuil, 24-year-old Paris and New York attorney whom she met in France a year ago while working on her second movie, "Bonjour Tristesse."

Trinity Lutheran church, where the bride once taught Sunday school, has been decorated with roses, candles and greenery for the double-ring ceremony.

The Rev. Roland Christenson, pastor of the church, will officiate and two of the bride's high school classmates, Martha Glick and Lynda Scott, will be maids-of-honor.

Miss Seberg's brothers, Kurt, 15, and David, 8, will be groomsmen and ringbearer respectively. As ringbearer, David will use a satin pillow made for the occasion by Jean's grandmother, Mrs. Frances Benson.

Two close friends of Moreuil, Arnold de Contades of Long Island, N. Y., and Eduardo Brofferio of Italy, will be best men.

The bridal couple plans to leave by plane on a honeymoon trip following a reception for the wedding party and out of town guests.

"We won't decide until the last moment where we'll actually go," Jean said.

In Good Taste Suggests Inviting Young Lady

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a young man in my early thirties and unmarried. Most of my friends are married. Occasionally I will go out with these friends and their wives to a restaurant or night club. The bill is usually paid by one and then later divided by the men in the party. What is the correct way to compute my share? Since they have their wives with them and I am alone, I do not think it should be divided evenly but that they should pay more. What is your opinion?

Answer: The fair thing to do is to divide the check into as many parts as there are individuals and then the men with wives would each pay two parts, and a man alone one part. Another suggestion would be for you to invite a young lady to come as your guest.

Second Wedding

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon for the second time and I would like to know if it would be proper to send out engraved invitations to the marriage. I have been told that engraved invitations are in bad taste for a second wedding and that the invitation should be handwritten. Will you please tell me what is proper?

Answer: Usually a second wedding is small and the bride-to-be does invite her friends verbally or by personal note. But sometimes when the bride-to-be is still young and she is marrying a man who has never been married before, many invitations are sent out and in this case they are engraved.

Door Question

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend and I disagree on the proper way for a boy and girl to go through a door that pushes in to open. I say that boy pushes it open from behind to allow the girl to go through first, then he follows. She says the boy goes first to open the door and stands holding it for her to go through. Will you please tell us which is correct?

Answer: If it is a heavy door, he says, "Excuse me," and goes first and then stands and holds it open for her to go through. He would push a revolving door from behind her.

Stop Shenanigans With Checks Instead of Gifts, Advises Ann

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: My problem concerns my daughter-in-law. I've tried to stay on good terms with her but it seems impossible. I could write a book on her peculiarities, but I'll try to be brief.

I take great pains in selecting gifts on birthdays, anniversaries and Christmas. She has yet to keep a gift and say "thank you." Every item has been returned with a request that I exchange it for another size, color, brand or a refund. The worst part of it is, she waits for a month which makes it difficult for me.

In June I sent my son a bathrobe for his birthday because when I visited them I noticed his robe had shrunk and faded. She returned the robe saying he had seven robes and could I select something else? What should I do with a daughter-in-law like this?—P. L.

Grant Motion for New Trial in Curb Opening Fight

Circuit Judge Andrew W. Parnell has granted a motion for a new hearing in the dispute between the city and Erickson Oil company over curb openings at the company's station at 800 W. Wisconsin avenue.

Parnell earlier ruled the city has the authority to order driveways set back a certain distance from street corners.

The city council ordered city crews to break up the openings and move them after claiming the oil company failed to comply with council orders. The oil company obtained a court injunction to halt the work until a hearing was held.

The hearing was decided in favor of the city but was appealed by Erickson's attorney. The new hearing will come up next month.

Nelson listed 10 issues on which he wants to debate with Thomson. He also suggested a list of cities where the debates would be conducted.

Kenosha was suggested as an alternate site for the welfare debate.

Set Dedication for Wrightstown School

Bishop to Give Blessing for New Building of St. Paul's Parish

Wrightstown — The Most Rev. Stanislaus V. Bona, bishop, Green Bay diocese, will bless the new $200,000 St. Paul's school in dedication ceremonies at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The ceremony will include the benediction of the blessed sacrament and a sermon by the bishop.

The school, built on the same site as the old school, has a brick and stone exterior and eight classrooms. It measures 179 by 72 feet.

It also includes an office, library, partial basement and a business trip. He charged the things to me.

He's already been picked up twice for speeding. Every time I bring up the subject of the car, my wife steps in on the boy's side and calls me old-fashioned. She says I should leave the kid alone, that this is just a passing phase which he'll outgrow.

These differences are pulling our marriage further apart each time. Meanwhile the boy has things pretty much his own way. If you can help me I'd appreciate it. —DAD IN A FIX.

Your big problem is your wife. She's using the boy to beat you over the head. You need a marriage counselor or a clergyman to mediate the war before your son winds up a casualty. And don't overlook the fact that the boy has learned to play you off against each other, for his own ends.

Take the speed equipment off the car. Kids are killing themselves fast enough as it is. If he breaks the law again, he should not have the car for six months. (Copyright 1958)

Red Star School To Pay $6,500 For Overflow

The tuition and transportation costs made necessary by the overflow enrollment at the Red Star school will cost the district $6,500, school board spokesmen said Thursday.

The district must send 15 upper grade pupils into the Menasha system because of the heavy enrollment this year. It was expected that 30 pupils would attend the school but 50 showed up on opening day.

School board officers Thursday were lining up parent transportation for the fifth through eighth grade pupils to be transferred to the Menasha system on a tuition basis.

The transportation will cost the district 20 cents a day for each parent driving children into Menasha. The tuition will amount to $370 a year per pupil.

The district had expected to levy a 3 mill tax rate for a $5,000 levy for next year. However, the extra expense will more than double the levy. It is expected the rate will reach 6 1/2 to 7 mills.

uncompleted kitchen in the basement. Each room has a folding wardrobe, built-in storage closet, book shelves, a counter and sink.

Ceiling Skydomes
The interior corridor is lighted by ceiling skydomes which admit natural light. The corridors have a tile wainscot.

A shrine to St. Paul in the center of the corridor near the main entrance contains a wood statue of the saint. Handcarved signs for the office and classrooms were made by the Rev. August Broekman, pastor.

Building Committee
Five rooms of the school will be used this year for the enrollment of about 270.

Robert Surplice, Green Bay, was the architect for the school. The building committee was made up of John Van Den Elsen, chairman; Joseph Brittnacher and Norbert Meulemans, trustees; and Eugene Lamers, Hilary Feldkamp and Mathew Meulemans.

P. G. Miron Construction company, Appleton, was the general contractor. Other contractors were Beno Plumbing and Heating, Green Bay; Severson Electric, Manitowish, and Edward Garot and Son, Green Bay, heating and ventilating.

The building, including the architect's fee but no equipment, cost $205,747.

Other St. Paul schools were built in 1887 and 1896. The last school was used until June, 1957.

Proxmire Continues His Fight for Wood Mill

Asks Pilot Plant for Soda Process; K-C Has Operated Full-Scale Mill for 9 Years

Sen. William Proxmire today announced that he is continuing his efforts to start a newsprint pilot plant in Wisconsin "in spite of the opposition of big foreign and eastern-owned paper manufacturing interests to block it."

Proxmire offered a bill calling for a $5 million pilot plant to produce newsprint from hardwoods by a process developed at the U. S. Forest Products laboratory in Madison. Kimberly-Clark corporation for nine years has operated such a plant at Coosa Pines, Ala., and recently completed a $35 million expansion program which included the world's largest paper machine.

Proxmire said today he already has succeeded in having the preliminary feasibility study approved for the project and it is being carried on by the U. S. forest service. The preliminary study has a budget of $20,000 approved by the senate.

The Coosa Pines plant operated by K-C is owned by 128 publishers and has been delivering newsprint to them since its inception. The Post-Crescent at one time used paper from this mill.

New Industry
Proxmire said today "this is an excellent chance to secure a multi-million dollar new industry for Wisconsin which would create a market for low-quality Wisconsin trees that have little or no market value at present."

Scientists at the Institute of Paper Chemistry have indicated use of hardwoods in Wisconsin has increased about 35 per cent in the last few years and is on the rise. Much of the institute's work in genetics is in fast-growing hardwoods for state mills.

Proxmire declared "further use of hardwoods is being made possible by the cold-soda process of pulping which is in the advanced experi-

Check Streets For Change In Bus Route

A member of the public service commission, city officials and Olof Lundquist, operator of Fox River Bus lines, made a tour of a proposed extension of a bus route on the northeast side this afternoon.

The tour was to determine if the streets were in good enough condition to carry the buses and what might be needed to put them in condition.

The common council last April approved extending one of the present routes east from N. Owassa street on E. Glendale, then south on N. Helen street to E. Pauline street and then south on N. Owassa.

Lundquist told the PSC he was not willing to operate over the streets because they were not suitable for bus operation. The PSC was told the city had no immediate plans to improve the streets.

On the tour were the public safety committee, Lundquist, Ald. Roy Pointer, chairman of the street and sanitation committee, and Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski.

Teachers Ask for '59-'60 Pay Hikes

Want Increases Ranging From $200 to $565 for Next Year

Appleton school teachers Thursday night asked for salary raises for the 1959 - 60 school year ranging from $200 for a beginning teacher to $565 for a teacher with 16 or more years experience.

Two alternate pay schedules were presented to the education committee of the school board by the welfare committee of the Appleton Teachers' association.

One would raise the base pay for a beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree from the present $4,000 a year to $4,300. It also would raise the annual increment (the amount a teacher is paid for each year's experience) from $125 for the first three years and $140 for the next 13 years to a flat $160 a year for 16 years.

The second would hike the base pay to $4,300 and make the annual increment a flat $150 a year for 16 years. Under this plan the raises would range from $300 a year for a beginning teacher to $505 for one with 16 or more years experience.

Career Plan
A new feature attached to both proposals would grant $300 a year raises for each five years over 16 years experience. This, according to Sherwood Russell, chairman of the teacher's committee, is to reward the career teachers.

Russell said it probably would be too much to expect to put all of the 5-year raise proposals in the schedule this year, but urged consideration of at least the raise for the 21-year group, the first over the 16 years where annual increments now end.

If the board should grant the first proposal, including the extra $300 for each 5-year period beyond 16 years experience, it would cost $177,989 more than the present schedule on an annual basis. The second proposal, if granted, would cost $182,065 more per year.

In recent years, the board of education has granted teacher salary increases but they always have been below those recommended by the teacher's association.

Other Changes
Five other changes in the pay agreements were proposed by the teacher's association.

One would have the salary schedule apply only to members of the Appleton Education association. Russell said that because the group was representing the association, it could not speak for teachers not belonging to it. Last year about 45 of 315 teachers were not members, Russell said.

Supt. of Schools John P. Mann said he would oppose this idea "to the last ditch because it smacks too much of a closed shop."

Welfare committee members admitted the schedule probably would have to apply to all teachers but wanted a clause in the agreement to urge non-members to join the association. Association dues are $19.50 a year, they said.

Another new request would provide for a $150 a year raise when a teacher earned 15 credits in graduate study or in a particular field pertaining to his work. Now teachers get an additional $300 a year when they get a master's degree.

Another new proposal calls for a forfeiture of $100 for teachers not fulfilling their contract agreement except in case of illness or pregnancy. However, both Mann and a member of the teacher's committee felt this would be unenforceable under state law.

Prefers State Action
Mann said he had trouble locating teachers after several who had signed contracts earlier broke them shortly before school opened. He felt a move by the state department of public instruction to take away state certification for teachers who violated contracts would be more effective.

Other new proposals called for the school board to pay expenses for two teachers each year to attend national conventions in their field and for one teacher to attend the national convention of the National Education association, the parent group of the Appleton association.

The salary discussions are held at this time prior to budget talks for 1959. A tentative budget will be presented to the school board soon.

Merit Plan
Mrs. Myrl Davis, chairman of the education committee, asked how the teacher's committee felt about a merit plan for salary increases.

Russell, who attended a national conference on this subject, said proposals for a merit plan had a long way to go before it would meet with approval of teachers. He said a desire for such a plan should come from the teachers and that such a plan should not copy those made in other communities. Over 75 per cent of the teachers would have to approve such a plan for it to work well, he said.

The crux of any merit plan is who would evaluate the teachers and how it would be done, he added. He said feeling at the national conference was that at least three persons would have to play a part in the evaluation.

Administrators
A committee of principals and administrators also made proposals on a salary program for 1959-60. Two proposals were discussed.

One would increase administrators' pay on a percentage basis of the highest raise granted a teacher and the other a percentage of the maximum paid a teacher.

The proposal called for elementary principals to get 120 per cent of teacher salary, junior high school principals 130 per cent and the senior high school principal 140 per cent.

Because members of the school board and administrators couldn't agree on which plan was being discussed at any one time, the administrators agreed to make out a specific schedule and present it later.

Herbert H. Helble, Appleton High school principal and spokesman for the administrators, said their salary raises often had lagged behind those given teachers. In some cases teachers have refused to take principals because they would get so little more they didn't feel the extra responsibility was worth it, Helble said.

Edward V. Krueger, school board president, said he

Menominees To Vote on County Issue

Post-Crescent News Service
Keshena — Members of the Menominee Indian tribe will vote Tuesday on whether they want to form Wisconsin's 72nd county.

The new governmental unit would be known as Menominee county and would comprise the entire 234,000 acres of the present Menominee Indian reservation following termination of federal supervision scheduled Dec. 31, 1960.

Several alternatives will be offered to the tribe's 3,270 enrolled members in balloting: A separate county, attachment to either Langlade, Oconto or Shawano counties, or remaining as the reservation is now with seven townships in Shawano county and three in Oconto county.

Printed ballots were sent this week to all adult enrolled Menominees. Ballots can be cast Tuesday at the four designated polling places, Keshena, Neopit, Zoar or South Branch, or they can be mailed to Keshena.

The votes will be canvassed and counted Monday, Sept. 15. If the voting results favor a separate county, it is expected the tribe will petition the state legislature for the necessary legal action.

Both State Parties Expected To Show Change in Platforms

Significant Modifications to Come After Primary Election This Month

BY JOHN WINGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — Both of the state's political parties will perform major surgery on their platforms when campaigns reach the final stage after primary elections.

Declarations of the candidates, including the major candidates of each side, suggest almost surely the voluntary convention platforms drafted earlier in the year will be modified significantly.

Republicans are fairly sure to delete from their statutory platform the endorsement of a "right to work law" referendum. Democrats are preparing to nail down positively their opposition to a sales tax, under any circumstances, if they are elected.

The most influential figures in each convention will be Gov. Vernon W. Thomson, as the titular leader of the GOP as the nominee for governor, and State Sen. Gaylord Nelson, Madison, the certain nominee of the Democrats.

Thomson Opposes

The governor has said that he is opposed to the "right to work" referendum proposal of the June voluntary Republican convention and he is almost certain to have his way.

The governor has said such a prohibition of compulsory unionism is not needed in Wisconsin, since closed and union shop contracts are now restricted by existing state laws requiring a two-thirds majority vote ratifying such contracts in any union.

Democrats have been mostly troubled by what they claim has been a misunderstanding of their earlier convention position on the sales tax question. The press generally has called it an equivocal statement, as against previous flat resistance to such a levy.

Sen. William Proxmire attributed his own triumphal position in state politics to his own persistent campaigning against a sales tax. Proxmire won't be a member of the platform convention, but his influence will be felt nevertheless.

Another platform issue of importance can grow out of Sen. Nelson's challenge of the Republican state administration's building program and its debt methods.

Nelson has denounced what he calls the surreptitious ac-

Tentative plans for a record hop were made at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Mikesville 4-H club. The committee in charge includes Keith Britton, chairman, James and John Raehl, Susie and Sally Salm, Fritz Tovar and Kay Becker.

Thief Pilfers $1,500 Of Band Sheet Music

New York — With $1,500 worth of sheet music missing, the Glenn Miller orchestra at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel has to play some favorite tunes from memory.

The theft of the music was discovered when the 17-member band assembled to play last night at the hotel's Starlight roof. The orchestra is led by Ray McKinley.

Lenny Hambro, manager of the band as well as lead clarinet and alto sax player, said "We assume that whoever took the music was not a musician, because the same tunes weren't missing from every man."

Hambro estimated it would take about a week to recopy the missing scores from the band's full arrangements.

Rain Squalls Kicked Up by tropical storm Ella are expected tonight along the west Gulf coast region. Showers are forecast for the Great Lakes, upper and middle Mississippi valley, central plains, southern Rockies and Florida. It will be cooler in New England and Montana and continue warm in the Virginias.

Cloud Blanket Hovers Over Fox Cities

Sheets of clouds early today turned into a blanket by mid-morning as showery weather moved into the Fox Cities from the western part of the state.

Thursday proved to be a reasonably pleasant day, temperaturewise. The maximum was a mild 76 and the minimum this morning was 56. The temperature at 11 o'clock this morning was 67.

Light showers were reported in the Superior-Duluth area with .01 inch of rain recorded by 7 o'clock this morning.

Forecasters Thursday figured the showery weather would take all day today to reach the Fox Cities but the lowering ceiling indicated an earlier arrival time.

Continued showery weather is forecasted for Saturday, but the accompanying temperatures are expected to be higher.

Maximum temperatures Thursday ranged from 80 in Lone Rock to 68 at Park Falls. The minimums this morning were mostly in the 50s with Green Bay's 48 the coolest in the state.

Lawrentians Will Discover Changes Buildings, Renewed Emphasis On Academic Will be Apparent

New buildings and a renewed emphasis on the scholarly business of the college are the chief topics of conversation as Lawrence starts its 111th year.

Most obvious novelties of the school year now beginning are two buildings achieved by the Lawrence Development Fund For Greater Service. A $200,000 fraternity house, built by the college for Phi Gamma Delta, is ready for occupancy on the northeast corner of the existing fraternity quadrangle, and with the older five houses will be the scene of much of the first week's Greek rushing activities. Rapidly coming into the national form is the $1½ million music-drama center, scheduled for completion by spring.

New, too, are the night courses offered to adults of the Fox river valley for the first time since World War II days. Classes will be held on Monday evenings from 7 o'clock to 9:30. In the first semester there will be a choice of Introduction to the English Novel taught by Dr. Elizabeth Forter, and Recent Developments in the Physical Sciences taught by Leonard Weiss of the geology department.

During the second semester, Dr. Craig R. Thompson will take a Shakespeare course, while Dr. Vernon Roelofs will give Concepts in American History. Three hours of college credit will be given for each.

Honors House

An experiment in creating a community of undergraduate scholars has also been instituted in the honors house. North house, normally an upperclass men's dormitory, will be converted into a unit of students who are definitely committed to intellectual pursuits. Twenty junior and senior men chosen by a faculty committee made up of Dean Marshall B. Hulbert, Dr. William A. Chaney, Dr. Warren Beck, Dr. W. E. Haisley and Dr. Charles Breunig are the residents of the first honors house.

Men of high scholastic attainment have been chosen, and it is hoped the atmosphere of the house will stimulate students to undertake honors work in the senior year. Dean Alexander R. Cameron commented: "These men have a real opportunity to develop themselves intellectually, but more than that, to assist the college in endowing the academic side of college life with prestige." Special facilities for library space within the house as well as for the entertainment of guests will be provided by the college.

Adding to the excellent of the library is a 33 per cent increase in book stack space installed during the summer. All of the basement of the building has now been reclaimed for library use, and 5,900 new linear feet of shelves have been installed, which will accommodate 40,000 normal sized volumes. More than $24,000 was spent on the project.

New Calendar

There will be a slightly new college calendar followed this season. Orientation week starts a day earlier than usual, the pre-school period has been shortened and other adjustments made so a midwinter vacation of a week can be taken after the semester examination period.

The registrar's office has bowed to the 20th century and is installing its first mechanical device—the McBee key sort system—to sort registration cards into courses. "All I have to say is that the living room of 1701 N. McDonald street is going to be strewn with confetti until these cards are in order," announced Registrar Dorothy H. Draheim with some grimaces.

In addition to the usual summer repairs and exterior painting about the campus, a $150,000 addition has been made to the college heating plant to prepare it for the added load of the sixth fraternity house and the air-conditioned music-drama center. A larger boiler, more coal handling and control equipment has been placed in a 16 by 20 foot addition to the present plant. New arteries of traffic were laid from Main hall to the library and Main hall to the union, as administrators abandoned the fight to keep students from making paths between those points. A new kiosk for the posting of campus news and several wood and slate benches have been placed behind Main hall to provide a new between-class gathering place for students. The roof of Ormsby hall has been replaced, and shortly after the start of school, the last of the green quonsets now standing south of Peabody house will be exiled to the river bank.

Campus Lawns

Considerable work has been done on the campus lawns and the tree care program has been continued to guard against Dutch Elm disease. Sodding has been done around the new Phi Gamma Delta house, and each fraternity entrance has received a flagstone triangle to cover the areas of wear.

Thirteen new faculty members will appear in the classroom on Sept. 16, opening day of classes. They are: Lt. Col. Albert L. Betz, head of the AFROTC detachment; Mrs. Dwight B. Easty in piano; Mrs. Bernhard Fabian-Lenk in German for the second semester; Diane Dickey, assistant to the dean of women

It takes a GIANT to set America in motion

This year millions of footloose travelers will buy tickets to romantic places. They'll pay several billion dollars to get where they're going by bus, plane, ship and train.

The transportation industry employs hundreds of thousands of people. It spends billions for equipment. It performs a gigantic task in carrying its passengers safely, surely and swiftly to their destinations.

Transportation space is possibly our most perishable product. An accommodation that has not been sold by the time a trip has begun is never sold. To help keep its product sold, transportation turns to another giant—the daily newspaper, the number one travel medium.

Last year the travel industry spent $58,266,000 in newspapers to attract the greatest number of ticket-buying travelers in history. More money is spent in newspapers—by all kinds of advertisers—because newspapers set people in motion—buying.

Six youths, variously charged with burglary, theft, misconduct with two girls, 12 and 14, and car theft, appeared in municipal court today.

The youths were named in criminal complaints Wednesday after Appleton police completed an investigation of a beer party Aug. 28 and subsequent events the next day. The party was held in one of the girls' homes and included an eighth keg of beer, police said.

Five of the youths were charged as an aftermath of the beer party and a sixth was added for furnishing beer and for a separate car theft incident.

All the youths are held in the Outagamie county jail under bonds up to $4,000 or for

He also denied misbehavior with the 14-year-old girl and bond was set at $3,000 for a Sept. 17 hearing.

Wisconsin avenue Aug. 29 and stealing beer, burglarizing Heller's Launderette service, 341 W. Wisconsin avenue and damaging a gasoline pump hose at the Junction Service station, 1635 W. School Rolls Drop by 177, Reflecting Loss of Junior Kindergarten

Total on Opening Day Is 3,480 With 1,094 at NHS and 420 at Kimberly

Neenah — The city's public school enrollment on the first day of school Thursday dipped 177 under the opening day enrollment a year ago. If the junior kindergarten had been kept this year, as it was last year, the enrollment would have grown instead by an estimated 447 pupils.

The total enrollment this year is 3,480, compared with 3,597 a year ago. Of this year's total, 1,094 are in high school, 366 in junior high and 2,020 in the grade schools.

A year ago today 1,014 were in high school, 344 in the junior high and 2,239 in the grade schools. Of this latter figure, 431 were in the 4-year-old kindergarten.

The junior kindergarten program was abandoned this year. A school census shows that about 447 would have entered the junior kindergarten this year.

420 at Kimberly

Neenah High school now holds 80 more pupils than last year, an increase which has necessitated holding study halls in the gymnasium lobby.

Kimberly Junior High school now has 420 pupils inside its walls, although only 366 are regular seventh and eighth graders. Sixth grade overflows from Washington and Lincoln schools have added 37 pupils to the Kimberly building, and 17 retarded children attend special classes there. Last year, with junior high and special education pupils, the enrollment was 344.

Six of the seven elementary schools show decreases from last year's enrollments, and four classrooms are vacant. One vacant room is at Wilson school, another at

Head of U. S. Elks to Visit Menasha Lodge

H. R. Wisely of Salinas, Calif., To Speak Sept. 16

Menasha — Horace R. Wisely, Salinas, Calif., grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, will visit the Neenah-Menasha Elks lodge on Tuesday, Sept. 16, Exalted Ruler George S. Nelson, Jr., announced today.

Wisely's visit will be the first a grand exalted ruler has made to the Twin City lodge since the late 1940's when the late Charles Broughton of Sheboygan was a guest. No grand exalted ruler from outside the state has ever stopped at the local lodge.

A motorcade will greet Wisely at Hilbert and accompany him to Menasha. A reception will be held at 6 o'clock and following a dinner the grand exalted ruler will speak.

Speaks at Racine

Several out-of-town Elks members are expected to attend the dinner. The national Elks' leader also will speak at a luncheon meeting of the Racine lodge on Tuesday, Sept. 16.

Wisely, 54, is a prominent businessman and civic leader. An Elk since 1931 when he joined the Salinas lodge, Wisely has devoted nearly as much of his time to service of his fellow men as he has to his own business affairs.

Typical of the achievements that led him to Elksdom's highest office was his work as head of the committee that organized the California Elks association's mobile therapy program for rehabilitation of cerebral palsied children.

Under the program 23 mobile units, manned by trained therapists, tour the state treating cerebral palsy patients and instructing parents of these youngsters in rehabilitation techniques. So successful was the program that today it has a case load of nearly 800 children who are being trained for a useful place in society.

Set Open House at Kimberly School

Neenah — An open house to choose between (1) the abandonment of Kimberly and Junior High school between 1:30 and 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, school officials announced today.

The 51-year-old building will be on public display just two days before voters are service to any people who are interested in seeing the building before the referendum.

School board member Arthur Plummer said it was "simply another attempt to inform the voters."

The First Classes Were Held Thursday in the new 6-room addition to the Hoover school in Neenah. Only two of new classrooms are being used by students this year, however. One is being used by the vocational school, another by the school system music director, and two are standing vacant ready for an expected enrollment increase in coming years. The addition cost $114,656.

City Uncommitted on New Junior High, Station Site

'One Good as Another' Bell Tells Voters

Neenah — Either one of the two proposed sites for a new police station "would be as good as the other," in the opinion of Mayor Chester Bell.

The mayor told a voters' assembly Thursday night that some members of the city council favor the city owned Walnut-Doty location while others favor the suggested Church-Franklin location.

Voters will advise the council of their preference in a referendum Tuesday. The choice on the ballot will be between the Walnut-Doty site and "some other location," but the council probably will accept a vote on the "some other location" as being for the Church-Franklin site.

The Church-Franklin site is now privately owned, but the Neenah planning committee of the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce has obtained options which will be assigned to the city if the council requests them.

Chamber Sought Site

Don Garlock, chairman of the chamber committee, said the second site was sought because of the controversy which surrounded the Walnut-Doty site "which was rejected by the voters last April."

He was referring to a $270,000 bond issue referendum for a new station, which was to have been built there, which failed by 201 votes.

The city now has nearly $60,000 invested in the Walnut-Doty site. Of this total, $36,000 was borrowed from local banks and the balance taken from the parking meter revenues for free parking lots. The Church - Franklin

2 Sides Argue City Finance, New School

Neenah — The council will not commit itself as a whole to any plan for new junior high school facilities at the present time, 345 Neenah voters heard Thursday night.

Mayor Chester Bell and Ald. Warren Sanders and James Dinius, however, advised the voters against pushing the city farther into debt by approving a school board endorsed plan for a new $850,000 750-pupil school.

Arthur Hedlund, chairman of a special citizens committee which studied the problem for eight months, simultaneously urged the adoption of the plan on the grounds that it would save the city money.

All spoke at a voter information session sponsored by the League of Women Voters at Neenah High school.

Voters will mark an advisory referendum ballot Tuesday on two proposals for increasing the junior high

Bank to Assist Lyle Miller in University Study

Neenah — A $200 scholarship for an agricultural short course at the University of Wisconsin has again been awarded to Lyle H. Miller, route 2, Neenah, by the First National Bank of Neenah.

Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Miller, is a 1957 graduate of Neenah High school and also received the scholarship last year for the November to March short course.

A letter from J. Frank Wilkinson to Ambrose Owen, executive vice president of the bank, called Miller "An exceptionally fine student—one you can be proud to have as a scholarship recipient."

Owen said the scholarship was established by the Neenah bank to encourage young men from the nearby farming area to better equip themselves for the business of farming. It is awarded annually to a young farmer in the area. The first scholarship was awarded a year ago.

Miller was a member of the National Honor society at Neenah High school, is a member of the South Greenville Grange and has been active in 4-H club work for seven years.

PSC to Consider Plant Expansion Without Hearing

Neenah — The public service commission will review Neenah's request for water plant expansion without a hearing, Edward T. Kaveny, PSC secretary, announced this week. A hearing had earlier been planned for late this month.

The city's application for approval of the addition of six filters and enlargement of the settling basin said that the construction would not necessitate a rate increase.

The city did, however, apply for a rate increase on the grounds that a fair return of 5.5 per cent on investment was not being received under the present rate schedule.

The city now gets an annual return of about 4.8 per cent.

The PSC must conduct a public hearing on this request for a rate hike before action is taken.

Controversy Continues on Junior High school facilities. Alternatives are the $956,000 school for 750 pupils to replace the Kimberly school and a $618,000 job which includes minimum $38,000 remodeling of the school and the construction of a new 400-pupil building.

Meaningless Alternative

The three who spoke against the school board proposal said that the city already faces a number of expensive projects (new grade school in Edgewood area, new police station, water plant expansion and new fire substation, among others) and that any deferment of additional expense would help keep the total cost down.

The trio, and Ald. Paul Hansen, indicated that the $618,000 alternative on the ballot was meaningless in itself. However, it was put on the referendum, they said, to provide a stark contrast in cost-to let the voters indicate their leanings on the question of spending money for a new school and abandoning the present one for junior high purposes.

All expressed a desire to meet with the school board and work out a compromise solution if the board's recommendation should be defeated in the voting.

Hedlund insisted, however, that the "council plan" for the smaller building and minimum remodeling of Kimberly would be more expensive, long-range term, than the plan presented by the school board after a recommendation from his committee.

He said that over 10 years the city would have spent $260,000 just for duplication of facilities in two schools, and that a new 350-pupil addition, costing $578,000, would have to be constructed on the 400-pupil building as soon as Kimberly became unusable—a time which is at most 10 years distant.

'Money Best Argument'

Principal and interest on bonds for the "council plan" would total $1,832,000, Hedlund said, and would total only $1,257,000 on the school board plan, a difference of $575,000. Even without considering interest, the difference would be $421,000, he asserted.

"The money involved is the best argument for the citizens committee's plan," Hedlund said.

The end result of either plan is the same: new junior high facilities for 750 after 10 years. Under the school board and citizens committee plan the facilities would be built immediately. Under the other plan the job would be done in two stages.

Paul Groth, school board president, said that $38,000 will have to be spent at Kimberly school to bring it up to industrial commission standards even for a few more years. To make the building completely adequate for a longer term would cost about $225,000, he said.

Neither side mentioned during the discussion a school board proposal for a second new million dollar junior high school, which is tentatively set for 1958. This school, now listed on the board's projected building program, is also for 750 pupils.

Although the council representatives declined endorsement of any plan, Hedlund insisted that the $61,000 alternative on the ballot is the "council plan."

"They must have seen some merit in it or they wouldn't have put it on the ballot," he said. "It is hard

Philippines Will Fight if Bases are Attacked by Chinese

Manila (AP)—President Carlos P. Garcia said today the Philippines would fight if American bases here were attacked by the Chinese communists during any conflict over Formosa.

Garcia told a news conference any communist attack on the big American bases here would be considered violation of the Philippine sovereignty and "we would defend our land."

Clark Air Force base and two navy bases here are the nearest American bases to Formosa and undoubtedly would be used to support U. S. forces in any shooting scrap that may erupt. The 13th Air Force at Clark commands the Formosa area and the navy bases support the Seventh fleet.

Asked about the communist declaration of a 12-mile limit, he said the Philippines backs the 3-mile limit.

City, Chamber Discuss Site Alternatives

site would cost $55,500, the chamber has said.

If voters approve the Walnut-Doty site, the parking meter fund will have to be reimbursed and about $24,000 worth of other land be sought for free lots, under the present ordinance. Bell indicated that this ordinance might be revised at any time, however, to permit meter revenues to be used for other city purposes.

If this is done a police station could conceivably be built there without any additional land cost.

If the "some other location" alternative wins the city could (1) borrow money to buy the Church-Franklin site, leaving the Walnut-Doty area untouched; (2) "sell" the land purchased with the borrowed $36,000 to the parking lot fund and use the money to help buy the Church-Franklin land; or (3) change the ordinance and use the $33,900 now in the parking lot fund to help buy land for the new station.

One thing at least is certain: if the city is to have both a police station and a large downtown parking lot, the land cost will be about $115,500. At the moment about $24,000 in meter revenues is invested in parking lots. The meter fund has about $33,900 unexpended. That leaves $57,600 which must be raised either by borrowing or waiting for the meter fund to grow by that amount.

A vote Tuesday for the Walnut-Doty site would be just that, with a resultant cost of about $60,000, a vote for "some other location" (Church-Franklin), the chamber feels, would be a vote for both a new police station site and a large downtown parking lot, with a total cost of about $115,500.

to see how they could come up with a different plan than we did, using the same set of facts," he declared.

Sees $5 Tax Hike

Ald. Sanders declared that a tax rate hike of $5 per $1,000 is already possible for next year in view of present projects facing the city and likelihood of reduced revenues from income taxes.

"In the referendum voters will be able to express themselves on whether they want some semblance of economy in the city government and whether the parents want a new junior high on the far south side of the city," Sanders said.

The only site mentioned so far for the 750-pupil building is an area about two blocks south of Cecil street near Oak street which the city does not own. The only place mentioned to date for the new 400-pupil building is the city owned tract immediately south of the high school athletic field.

Sanders also took issue with the $26,000 figure cited by Hedlund as the annual expense of running two junior high schools. "If this were true we'd be losing money on each of the various grade schools now," Sanders said.

Ald. Diniis said the city was at a spending peak now, and that it would be wise to spread the peak out over several years to reduce the annual load. This would be one opportunity to postpone a capital outlay, he said.

Distance, General Good

He added, though, that the voters should be influenced more by the distance of a south side school from many homes and the general good of the city, rather than by the dollars involved.

Hansen said that the council could not limit itself only to these two widely separated alternatives, but neither could it commit itself to the immediate spending of a million dollars for a new school.

The council wanted to draw the citizens into the problem, he said, since they will have to pay for any new schools. "We saw an opportunity for the education of the public. When the smoke has cleared away, we will have a more interested and better informed public," the alderman declared.

Bell said that "The voters should assume some responsibility for this, since it will have a marked effect on city finances."

Council May Have Erred

He admitted that in selecting the apparently least expensive alternative, he and the council may have erred. But this is not fatal, nor even serious, he said, since the referendum is advisory only.

The mayor also questioned some of the premises in the citizens committee's report, particularly that group's adoption of professional educators' "rule of thumb" which provides for a tract of five acres plus one acre for each 100 pupils. "Can anyone seriously maintain," he asked rhetorically, "that these thousands of children (who have attended the Kimberly school in years past) have been deprived of proper education because of this lack of ground space?"

He said the classrooms for 750 pupils may not be needed until 1970, when the enrollment would reach that level. Richard Sawtell, a member of the citizens committee, said that the 750 level may be reached much sooner.

Bell said that the traffic and railway hazards at the Kimberly school cited by Hedlund "seem more apparent than real." He noted that in the last 18 years only two Kimberly pupils had been involved in traffic accidents in that area.

Taft, and two in the 6-room Hoover school addition. The vocational school is in one room at Roosevelt school and another in the Hoover addition. The school music director also is using a Hoover classroom as an office, leaving a total of seven classrooms not being used for classes.

The Wilson school still has the largest enrollment, 466 pupils. A year ago it had 572, of which 113 were in junior kindergarten and who have been promoted to senior kindergarten without new 4-year olds taking their place.

The Washington school has 315 youngsters, compared with 347 a year ago. Last year there were 78 in junior kindergarten. Hoover school has 271 pupils. A year ago there were 292 there, including 56 in junior kindergarten.

Lincoln, McKinley Losing

Roosevelt school has 280 pupils, compared with 324 a year ago. Last year 65 were in junior kindergarten here. McKinley school, which had 248 last year, including 36 in junior kindergarten, now has 209. Lincoln school has 186, compared with 221 last year, of which 26 were in junior kindergarten.

Both Lincoln and McKinley schools seem to be decreasing in size even more than the number accounted for by the dropping of the junior kindergarten.

Only the Taft school has more pupils this year than 1957 in spite of the loss of junior kindergarten pupils. In 1957 there were 235 enrolled there, including 57 4-year olds. This year there are 239.

Report Due on Traffic Safety In Twin Cities

Menasha — A report on traffic safety in the Twin Cities will be made Monday night by Gordon Mays of the state motor vehicle department safety division, the Twin City Safety council announced today.

The public meeting is scheduled for 7:30 in Room 146 of the vocational wing of Menasha High school, Paul A. Dodge, Safety council chairman, said. Dodge said the National Safety council had inventoried all traffic safety activities in the Twin Cities and was now prepared to present its evaluations and recommendations.

The report, the national council said, will provide a "realistic picture" of what must be done to keep pace with mounting problems of traffic, congestion and accidents.

The report will compare Neenah and Menasha with other cities and with established standards, safety council officials said. A state-wide picture of traffic safety will also be presented.

The safety council urged all interested citizens to attend the open session.

Teacher Files Damage Suit Against Hospital For Mistake in Surgery

Clearwater, Fla. (AP)—A school teacher who says she went to a hospital for toenail surgery and wound up with a breast operation by mistake has filed a $35,000 damage suit.

Miss Jimmie C. Parker of Largo filed the suit in circuit court yesterday against Morton Plant hospital and Dr. John D. Hagood.

The suit said Miss Parker entered the hospital for removal of an ingrown toenail, that through negligence and carelessness she was placed in an operating room as Hagood entered to perform surgery in another case, and that the physician thereupon operated on Miss Parker's right breast.

Hagood and hospital authorities declined comment.

Zephyrs Kick Off 1958 Grid Schedule Against Bosco '11'

10 Veterans, 1 Sophomore
To Start for Menasha Club

Menasha — St. Mary High school will kick off the 1958 football schedule in the Twin Cities when it meets Don Bosco of Milwaukee at 8 o'clock Saturday night at Butte des Morts field.

The game will inaugurate an eight-game schedule for the Menasha squad. The Zephyrs are coached for the second year by Vince Ste. Marie, whose initial team posted a 5-3 slate.

Ste. Marie is expected to open with a lineup composed of 10 veterans and a sophomore. Three others will be inserted into the lineup on defense.

Offensive Starters

Rechner, Wiegand, Batley, Brown, Balthazor, Voissem and Makofski were regulars last year. Lotzer alternated at halfback with Denny Zapp and VandenHeuvel was a near regular. Wiegand was a guard.

Used on Defense

On defense, 250-pound sophomore Jerry Resch and Don Misliniski, another returning letterman, will be inserted in the line and letterman halfback George Walbrun will play safety.

In addition to Zapp, other regulars who graduated included Jim Schueppert, end; Dick Timmers, center; John McGinnis, guard, Pat Ryan, reserve quarterback and several reserves who didn't see too much action.

Not too much is known about the Don Bosco squad. (Like St. Mary, Saturday's lone sophomore) at guards, fracas will be its first of the year.

According to reports from the home of the Braves, Bosco has only four lettermen from last year's squad which notched a 12-0 decision over the Zephyrs.

The returnees include Joe Fons and Tim Rand, ends; Roland Mroz, guard, and Tom Sager, quarterback. Mroz and Sager started against the Zephyrs last fall, Fons saw action in a reserve capacity and Rand didn't play at all.

Split Conference
The Milwaukee Catholic conference, to which Bosco belongs, is splitting up its setup this year into one for "big" and "little" schools.

Bosco is in the "big" category for those with an enrollment of 500 or better with St. Catherine of Racine, Pius, Marquette and Messmer and on that basis although it is shy on lettermen, it should have numbers and is expected to field a formidable team.

Last year the Dons were predicted to be one of the "weak sisters" in the Milwaukee loop in preseason forecasts but they came on to spring a few upsets after besting the Zephyrs.

St. Mary fought the Dons to a scoreless standoff in the

Stenson Bids For Berth on Miami Squad

Hurricanes Open '58 Card Against Wisconsin Eleven

Coral Gables, Fla. — Vic Stenson, former Menasha High school athlete, is among the 55 candidates who have started fall football practice at the University of Miami.

Stenson was "red shirted" last year when he was a sophomore and since he didn't have any actual game competition, he is eligible for three more years of varsity service.

The 198-pounder, however, has lots of competition at right end where Miami has several returning lettermen—athletes whose brilliance contributed largely to Stenson's stint with the red shirts.

Stenson was an outstanding baseball pitcher with the Miami baseball team last spring.

He topped the staff with the best record ever turned in by a Miami hurler and was named the most valuable player on the team.

Miami opens its schedule, Wisconsin in the Orange Bowl on Sept. 26.

Five Bowling Loops Initiate Schedules
Menasha — Five bowling leagues are slated to initiate their 1958-59 schedules at three Twin City alleys this evening.

Bowling at 7 o'clock at Mid-Town will be the 10-team Menasha Men's circuit while the Twin City Women's league, another 10-club loop, will inaugurate its slate at 9 o'clock.

The Commercial league opens competition at 7 o'clock at Menasha Recreation and the Goodfellowship wheel begins action at Muench's.

first two periods a year ago but lack of depth caught up with them in the second half and Bosco scored twice on a long run and long pass.

Lacked Depth
St. Mary had only 29 boys in uniform including eight freshmen. This years squad figures to have much better depth since it lost few lettermen and has some fine sophomores.

Providing injuries, ineligibility and other unforeseen factors which can take a bite in the squad's manpower are at a minimum, the Menashians are expected to have another fine season.

They lost three games last year, any one or all of which could have gone the other way. They lacked the depth and scoring punch in the Bosco game, they lost to Madison Edgewood 12-0 on a couple of long passes and after several of their scoring drives fell short they met their only conference defeat.

Little Chute St. John winning 12-6 in the final minutes.

Six Packers Sidelined for Game Saturday

Three Veterans and Trio of Rookies Won't Face Giants

Real-Crescent News Service

Boston—Six Packers will be sidelined with injuries for Green Bay's non-league football game against the New York Giants here Saturday night.

The squad was due to arrive here by plane this afternoon and take a light workout.

Coach Ray McLean announced after practice in Green Bay Thursday that three rookies and three veterans will have to be held out because of injuries—freshmen Ken Gray, Bob Burris and Dan Currie and veterans Paul Hornung, Gary Knafele and Hank Bullough.

"We expect to get them in shape next week and have them ready for the Redskin game," McLean said. The Bays play Washington in Winston-Salem, N. C. a week from Saturday night.

All but Burris suffered injuries in the 20-17 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles last Monday evening—Burris was hurt in practice Wednesday when he collided with another player defending against a pass.

The Fox Cities Foxes Thursday night closed their Three-I league home season in the same high style with which they began it — a victory fashioned behind expert experting by Ted Sadowski.

Sadowski, who blanked Cedar Rapids four months ago in the Goodland field inaugural, last night decided Davenport's "Stover" McIlwain, 2-1, in a dilly of a duel. The potentially - outstanding Sadowski has notched seven other wins this season between sieges of various arm infirmities.

Braves Score 4 Off All-Star Hero Farrell to Win in 10th

Pizarro Allows 1 Hit in Relief In 9-5 Victory

By The Associated Press

When the last out was made in the 1958 All-Star game, the National league had only one hero in defeat, Philadelphia's relief ace, Dick Farrell.

He had shut out the American league without a hit, striking out Jensen, Skowron, Malone and Ted Williams in a near-perfect two innings that came too late.

Farrell had been just as effective for the Phillies. He had been in half their previous 30 games and had figured in more than half their 18 victories with a 5-0 record and five saves in a month-long battle from seventh place to fourth, just 2 1/2 games shy of the lead.

Druze Gratified By Performance Of First Unit

Milwaukee — The starting combination scored three touchdowns Thursday as the Marquette football team mixed in a rugged drill, but that was the only encouragement for Coach Johnny Druze who was able to uncover only little reserve strength.

While gratified by the work of the first unit, Druze said efficiency dropped off when substitutions were made.

Druze singled out the work of quarterback Pete Hall, fullback John Lane and halfback Dick Timmer of Wilmot. Timmer scored one of the touchdowns on a 30-yard run.

Takes Battering

He's been yesterday's hero since. He has won only once in seven decisions and has managed just four saves in 22 appearances. He's been battered for 25 earned runs in 29 innings over that span.

The kid right-hander took his lumps again Thursday night, getting tagged for four runs on four hits as Milwaukee whipped the Phils, 9-5, in 10 innings.

Allows 12 Hits

Pizarro, who hadn't been much help to the Braves lately, was the whole show for 5-2-3 innings, allowing only a high-hop single, walking two and fanning six. Farrell, worked two innings for starter Ray Semproch.

Even when the Braves presented him with a 5-1 lead, Burdette failed to assume command. In his 4 1-3 innings

No Problems

Loss of six players won't create manpower worries because McLean still will have 41 men available. Defensive back Al Romine, a good pass receiver, has been working overtime the last few days on his various cuts and maneuvers with the quarterbacks. Al would play behind Max McGee at left end. Dick Deschaine spells Billy Howton at right.

McLean is particularly unhappy about losing the three rookies for this game because it delays testing. Gray has looked exceptionally good while Burris and Currie still must get considerable attention.

After the Giants, the Packers play only two more exhibitions—the Redskin and Cardinals. The Cards will be opposed in Minneapolis Sept. 21.

Only One '57 Offensive Starter On Current AHS First Team

BY MIKE DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

What experience and bulk couldn't do last season Appleton High school Football Coach Ade Dillon hopes that youth and eagerness can accomplish this year.

Though his 1957 Terrors brought home the school's second consecutive Fox River Valley conference championship, they disappointed their followers in one phase of the game.

They never provided many offensive fireworks, grinding their way to the title by virtue of sheer power and grudging, opportunistic defensive play.

Jones Becomes 1st NL Pitcher in 17 Years to Fan 200 in Season

'Sad' Sam Whiffs Eight as Cards Dump Cubs, 4-2

By The Associated Press

Teammates are calling him Emperor Jones now that "Sad" Sam has become the first National league pitcher in 17 years to strike out more than 200 batters in a single season.

The 6-4 right-hander ran his total to 201 by striking out eight in pitching the St. Louis Cardinals to a 5-hit, 4-2 verdict over the Cubs in Chicago Thursday. He also had a pair of singles.

A silent man, never in Dean's class as a talker, Jones had little to say about his achievement in the club. The league strikeout record of 267 for a single season was set by Christy Mathewson of Pittsburgh.

150 Drivers Compete This Weekend in Road America Races

Lance Reventlow in Field; 500-Mile Feature to be Run Off Sunday

Elkhart Lake —A— Lance Reventlow of Culver City, Calif., a determined young man with a yen for demanding the utmost of highly-tuned sports cars, has entered the Road America 500.

About 150 outstanding drivers have entered the weekend of road racing under Sports Car club of America (SCCA) sanction. The 500-mile event gets under way Sunday morning. Eighty and 120-mile races will be held Saturday.

Reventlow, who recently chipped in some $25,000 to pay the cost of engineering his Scarab sports car, will co-drive with Gaston Andrey of Hamden, Conn.

Enters 4.1 Ferrari Hamden has entered a powerful 4.1 Ferrari, the same car that swept the field in an international point - counting event at Caracas, Venezuela.

Reventlow, the son of dime store heiress Barbara Hutton, is the national champion for SCCA modified driving.

Walt Hansgen of Westfield, N. J., and Eddie Crawford of Northfield, Ill., will head the Briggs Cunningham stable of Lister-Jaguars.

The stiffest competition is expected to develop between the Lister-Jaguars and the Ferrari Testa Rossas, with the smaller, nimble potent Porsches posing a quickening threat.

Road America officials, aware that 53 eager drivers will be on the starting grid for the 500, have decided to stagger the start. The fastest cars will be flagged off first, with the less powerful classes passed at 20 or 25 second intervals to lessen possibilities of a crackup on the first turn.

Very Difficult The course, which is shaped like a hip boot with the top flopping over, is one of the most difficult in the country.

Ferrari Testa Rossas (which means red head) will be driven by E. D. Martin of Columbus, Ga.; Jim Place of Waukegan, Ill.; Augie Pabst of Milwaukee; and Jim Johnston of Cincinnati.

"Honest" John Kilborn of Decatur, Ill., has entered a 3.4 Ferrari.

Rookie Defensive Backs Got Lessons in Packer-Eagle Tilt

BY ART DALEY

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — Last Monday's football show at City Stadium offered a good example of how tough it is to play defensive halfback in the majors. An offensive back "only" loses a yard or two if he mistakes; the poor defensive back's error can mean six points for the opposition.

The Eagles' Jack Crabtree and the Packers' Bob Burris, both rookies, received some valuable defensive halfbacking experience in the process of fighting for their teams, and each watched six points blossom behind him.

The Bays had second down and seven on the Eagle 13-yard line in the first quarter when Max McGee snaked down the west sidelines leaving parts of Crabtree on the 1-yard line and in the end zone when Max took the strike from Bart Starr in the corner of the end zone. Jack came up too fast instead of playing McGee deep and safe.

Burris might have been a victim of circumstances, as it were, since the Eagles got him into a "situation" by flooding his area and then firing Bobby Walston into the clear on fourth down for the touchdown pass. That can happen to the best defensive backs.

"Taz" Taylor, the former Packer and Marquette coach, liked Jim Shanley. "For a little guy he's got something to go with his quickness, and that's power," Taylor said. "You remember how good Jeter was that first year with the Bears? Well, he had to dance around and then dart to make his gains, but this little Shanley just smashes ahead and keep dashing all over at the same time."

Fullback Howie Ferguson said "those two fumbles made me wonder," explaining: "I handled the ball without com-

how tough it is to play defensive halfback in the majors. An offensive back "only" loses a yard or two if he mistakes; the poor defensive back's error can mean six points for the opposition.

The Eagles' Jack Crabtree and the Packers' Bob Burris, both rookies, received some valuable defensive halfbacking experience in the process of fighting for their teams, and each watched six points blossom behind him.

The Bays had second down and seven on the Eagle 13-yard line in the first quarter when Max McGee snaked down the west sidelines leaving parts of Crabtree on the 1-yard line and in the end zone when Max took the strike from Bart Starr in the corner of the end zone. Jack came up too fast instead of playing McGee deep and safe.

Burris might have been a victim of circumstances, as it were, since the Eagles got him into a "situation" by flooding his area and then firing Bobby Walston into the clear on fourth down for the touchdown pass. That can happen to the best defensive backs.

"Taz" Taylor, the former Packer and Marquette coach, liked Jim Shanley. "For a little guy he's got something to go with his quickness, and that's power," Taylor said. "You remember how good Jeter was that first year with the Bears? Well, he had to dance around and then dart to make his gains, but this little Shanley just smashes ahead and keep dashing all over at the same time."

Fullback Howie Ferguson said "those two fumbles made me wonder," explaining: "I handled the ball without com-

Wondering why the Fox City in the 3-team Washington system Carlos "Potato" Pascual, Missoula is currently was left off the Three-I league second in the second half penal-star first team despite nant chase after having finished further down in the race by 40 points, I queried four men who voted on the selections.

None of the four—an Iowa sportswriter, the manager of one of the Iowa clubs and two umpires—voted for "Potato" and all gave the same reason. Their consensus was that they favored Davenport's Bob Sagers for the first team "because he is younger, and thus a better major league prospect."

Though neither of the umpires mentioned it, it is certain that Pascual's early-season tendencies towards exploding at their decisions won him few friends among the men in blue. None of the six voted for him for the first team.

During the last several months "Potato" who is a well-mannered, likeable fellow, off the field, has cooled off considerably when in uniform. But umpires, like elephants, have good memories. "Potato" is probably as much a prospect in the Washington farm system as Sagers in the White Sox chain.

All four of the Washington Class D farm clubs either have finished, or will finish, the season deep in the second divisions of their respective leagues.

Here is the record: 1. Elmira (N.Y.): eighth, at last report, in the New York-Pennsylvania league. 2. Superior (Neb.): eighth in the Nebraska State (Rookie) league.

AL Officials are Insistent That Yankee Dynasty to End Soon

BY JOE REICHLER

New York —Is the American league situation as bad as some critics would have you believe?

The league officials say no. The club owners insist — perhaps rightly so — they are constantly battling to build up to New York, Yankee General Manager George Weiss says the junior circuit is better balanced than it has been in years.

Try to Improve The magnates point to the millions of dollars they've spent and are still pouring out in bonuses, in order to obtain the best possible young players. Weiss points to the improvement of the Baltimore, Kansas City and Cleveland clubs, and maintains that Detroit, Boston and Chicago are capable of providing strong opposition to the Yankees next year and for several years after.

"Close to two million dollars have been spent by the seven Yankee rivals in 1958 in an effort to improve," an American league official declared. "Does that look like we're sitting on our hands and resigning ourselves to playing second fiddle to the Yanks? Every one of the clubs is spending money, expanding the farm systems, enlarging the scouting staffs. There are more new young players in the league this year than ever before."

"Sure, we're confronted by a tremendous task. But I have seen no evidence of a defeatist attitude. Right now we're confronted by a Yankee dynasty. But like all dynasties, it will come to an end soon. The Dodgers dominated the National league the same way for ten years. Look at them now."

An American league official pointed out that not a single club is in trouble financially.

"The league as a whole is stronger today than it's been in a long while," he said. "No club is in trouble. Even Washington, drawing 450,000, is making money. The Senators own the park, the concessions and parking. Their financial responsibility is good."

Although the league's attendance is some 700,000 below that of last year, the official didn't appear worried.

he allowed 12 hits, a base on balls and fanned only one.

In August, the right-hander was nearly unbeatable posting seven victories that allowed the Braves to build their lead. He was defeated only once in eight starts.

Torre's triple, a double by Del Crandall and a single by Bill Bruton gave Milwaukee two runs in the second inning. They collected three more in the fifth on a walk for Ed Mathews, a single by Hank Aaron and Wes Covington's 24th home run.

But Burdette couldn't protect the lead. After retiring the Phillies in order with the help of double plays in the first and second innings, his first real trouble came in the third.

Singles by Chico Fernandez, Carl Sawatski and Richie Ashburn produced the first Philadelphia run. That inning also saw Johnny Logan thrown out of the game for protesting a close play at first on a double play at first on a double attempt.

A pair of singles, Ed Burdette's double, another double by Harry Anderson, a wild pitch and another single tied the score in the fifth. Pizarro rescued Burdette and retired the side with a single pitch

The Braves then went down in order until the tenth when Wise, playing for Logan, singled and Aaron did the same. After they moved ahead on a wild pitch, Covington was given an intentional walk to fill the bases. Torre's single scored two runs. Two more went home on Bruton's triple.

Terrors Strive For Stronger Attack in '58 mile and his accuracy figures to improve.

Junior John Taylor and sophomore Marv Hietpas, who back up Nussbaum also show possibilities.

Franzke and Roemer demonstrated that they could run against varsity defenders last season but, especially at the beginning of this season, the two "mighty mites" don't figure to have the holes they had last.

Henning, one of the most underrated players in the FRVC last season, won't be tackled without a fight and could be the club's most consistent ground-gainer.

Senior fullback Joe Eich, a regular as a junior, is currently carrying a weight around on his left ankle to strengthen his injured knee. The 210 - pounder isn't being counted upon for much immediate help.

Currently back of Henning are sophomore Pete Kafura and junior Cal Klues, who was with the jayvees last season. Both have considerable natural ability but Klues, especially, "needs a little more ruggedness," according to Dillon.

Dave LaViolette is the No. 2 left half while another 1957 JV product, Larry Bogen-schutz, senior Jim Oashger and sophomore Bill Caesar are competing for the third team job.

A sophomore, Don Brock, has battled his way up to the second team right halfback post. Brock was hurt in a scrimmage with Kimberly Thursday afternoon but probably not seriously. Senior Dennis Tank and junior Larry Handel are right behind him. Taylor, who fakes well but is not a fast runner, and Hietpas, who shows excellent possibilities both as a runner and a passer, provide promising if not experienced depth at quarterback.

The Terrors have almost no veteran personnel at the ends. But, the leading candidates for regulars jobs have shown enough promise to prompt Dillon to remark that "we may have better pass receiving than we've had here in some time." This from a coach who has had such all-Wisconsin wingmen as Jim Reinke, Ron Locklin and Tom Verkuilen on his AHS ball-club.

The leader in the race for the right end job is senior Toby Meredith—on the injury list now—who didn't see much action while on the '56 AHS varsity. Junior Ron Abel, a 6-5 basketball behemoth who could develop into a grid star, is his principal relief, followed by Bob Schroeder, who was on the varsity as a soph last season.

The left end is sure-handed Dick Wankey, who played with the '57 co-FRVC champion JVs. Senior Jim Beaumont is working with the second unit while junior Herman Kafura and senior Ivan Def-ferding are fighting for the third team job.

Letterman Thomas and Lecy currently have the right and left tackle jobs won, respectively, but may be pressed as the season wears on. Dan Senior Tom Quella, juniors Jim Manier, Jim Brueggeman and soph Eddie Felauer are other others in the right tackle fight. Soph Jon Holman, and last year's JV team products Ron Tollefson and Dave Nabbe-feld are listed back of Lecy.

Tollefson is currently the No 1 right guard ahead of a '57 JV teammate Dick Heis-son. Bunkleman, rugged though weighing just 165 pounds, heads the left guard pack.

Backing him up are senior John Scribner and junior Dave Anderson.

Henning to Kick Off

The club's youthful-but-lamented theme holds true at center where juniors Kottke and Ron Finger and sophomore Joe Verrier 'should give us strength here for three years,' according to Dillon. Ade is especially high on the potential of Verrier.

LaViolette figures to be the Terrors' punter, at this point with assistance from Pete Kafura. Henning, who is almost sure to be the most active Terror, will again do the club's kicking off and converting. Anderson is being groomed as his alternate.

Herm Kafura and Jack Albrecht, a junior guard, are the most recent additions to the varsity.

Dillon is hesitant to predict any great things for his youthful band. "I'll have to wait to see what these new kids will do against competition," he says.

The veteran mentor intends to give his club a chance for as much outside competition as possible before next Friday's Menasha opener. In addition to Thursday's workout with Kimberly, several more scrimmages are planned for the next week.

The Terrors again figure to mix single wing plays in with their basic T-formation offense.

Lou Takes Plunge

Braves to Beat Yanks Again, Predicts Perini

Philadelphia —P— Milwaukee owner Lou Perini said Thursday night the Braves may have caught the Yankees with their guard down in the 1957 World Series, and predicted the New Yorkers "will snarl and try to run us out of the park this year."

"We sort of crawled up on them last year when they least expected it," Perini said. "And this year they're going to be out there from the opening bell trying to beat our pants off. I'd say the Braves are going to have to fight harder than ever before if they want to repeat as champions."

But Perini forecast that Milwaukee would win its second straight championship, again needing the full seven games to turn the trick.

Perini made his comments after the Braves had trimmed the Philadelphia Phillies, 9-5, in 10 innings, remaining nine games out in front in the National league race.

But even with the bulge, their biggest of the year, the players and Manager Fred Haney refused to count themselves as champions.

However, Perini took the plunge. "There's no question but that we've got this thing in the bag," he said. "We'd have to do an awful job on ourselves to lose it now. So at the risk of jinxing ourselves, I'd say that we're in. In any event, I've spent more comfortable nights of late."

Tigers' Owner May Support Nats' Transfer

But Yanks' Topping Hints He'll Oppose Any Move Attempt

Washington —P—The Washington Senators may find unexpected support if they seek American league approval of a move to Minneapolis. They also face opposition if the question comes up at a league meeting next Monday.

Two club owners, Harvey R. Hansen of Detroit and Dan Topping of New York, refused to commit themselves. But Hansen indicated he would not interfere if Senators' President Calvin Griffith pleads a convincing case for transferring the team. Topping hinted he would object.

Detroit had been one of the clubs reported against moving the Senators. Griffith took steps to keep himself free of local chains at the Monday meeting in Chicago. His attorney prepared to oppose a stockholder's request for a court order temporarily restraining Griffith from discussing a franchise shift.

No Statement

The order was sought by Robert R. Rodenberg, former owner of the Baltimore Colts go-Moorhead Twins Thursday night sent the 1958 Northern shares of Senators' stock. H. league baseball final playoff Gabriel Murphy, who com-mends more than 40 per cent of the shares, also has thrown out a federal court suit against any plans for a move.

Hansen said by telephone from Detroit that he could make no positive statement on the move because "we have nothing as yet specific on which to base an opinion."

Then he added: "As a general policy, I don't feel that no-hitter at Minot Monday, any major league club should stand in the way of another T. game, witnessed by 961.

In moving when it demonstrates the economic necessity for doing so."

Topping, co-owner of the Yankees, commented: "I hope baseball stays in Washington."

Bunning Wins 2nd Since His No-Hitter

Leaves After 7 Innings in 11-4 Win Over Chisox; Yanks Cop

By The Associated Press

Jim Bunning is finding the American League's no-hitter jinx a tough whammy to whip. The lean right-hander, who won 20 for Detroit last season, seemed to be back in form when he pitched his 3-0 no-hitter against Boston July 30. It was his sixth victory in his last seven decisions.

Since then things have been rough, just as it was for Bobo Holloman, Mel Parnell and Bob Keegan—the last three to pitch no-hitters in the AL. Holloman got his in his first major league start with the St. Louis Browns back in 1953. He didn't complete another game in the majors and was out of business two months later.

Parnell Retires

Parnell, the hard-luck guy of the Boston Red Sox, got his in 1956—then went into self-imposed retirement because of injury less than a year later.

Keegan was the only major leaguer to pitch a no-hitter last year. The Chicago White Sox sent him to the minors this season.

Bunning hasn't been able to pitch a complete game in nine starts since his big day in Boston, and has lost four of six decisions.

Thursday, he won for only the second time since the no-hitter, beating the White Sox, 11-4. But he again wasn't around for the finish—after pitching perfect ball for the first four innings.

The loss dropped the Sox 12½ games behind the New York Yankees and reduced the Yankees pennant-clinching magic number to nine.

Boston beat Baltimore, 5-2, and Kansas City clipped Cleveland, 2-1, in the only other games scheduled in the AL.

Torgeson Homers

Bunning (10-10) gave way after the seventh inning, when Earl Torgeson, who had three of the Sox's eight hits, swatted his solo seventh home run. Hank Aguirre mopped up for the Tigers, who scored four runs in the first inning, three on Gail Harris' 16th home run. Ray Moore (9-6) lost his third straight.

Pete Runnels drove in a pair of runs for the Red Sox as Baltimore dropped into a tie for fourth with Detroit. His double tied it 2-all in the fifth, and he singled home the winner in a three-run seventh against loser Milt Pappas (9-8). Rookie Bill Monbouquette (2-4) gave up only three singles, all the Orioles managed, as Murray Wall pitched a hitless three innings of relief. Both Bird runs were unearned.

Roger Maris broke up a shutout duel with his 24th home run, a 2-run belt in the sixth, as the A's ended Cal McLish's winning streak at six. McLish (14-7) allowed only four hits in his seven innings, giving up a single to Bill Tuttle ahead of the homer. Ralph Terry (9-11) was the winner with a 9-hitter, losing a shutout in the eighth on Vic Power's triple and an infield single by "Minnie" Minoso.

Green Bay Blanks Winona, 2-0, on Rakow's 5-Hitter

By The Associated Press

League-leading Cedar Rapids lost at Burlington, 5-3, and Green Bay used two unearned runs for a 2-0 victory over Winona in Three-I league games Thursday night. The Fox Cities beat Davenport, 2-1.

Green Bay took a 2-game bulge over Winona in the race for second place by scoring eight runs. Davenport posted an 8-4 first-round edge.

Pascual made one of the plays of the year in the seventh inning. Going for a base hit, Bacon laid a near-perfect bunt down the third base line. Pascual swooped in, made a bare-handed pick-up and a side-arm throw with the same motion to nail the runner by an eyelash.

The 1-1 deadlock prevailed until Hall stepped up to start the Foxes' eighth. He smacked the ball out of sight just to the left of center field, a drive that carried better than 350 feet.

Davenport put Sadowski's pressure-resistance to a final test in the ninth. With one out, Lindstrom cuffed his third straight single and "Chuck" Stacy doubled to right. Sadowski threw out Lehman on a soft tap, holding the runners. Bacon socked a hard grounder at second baseman Bob Tano, who fumbled momentarily but recovered in time to accomplish the final out by a step.

The win enabled the Foxes to pull out a 7-7 tie in its second-round series with the Sox. Davenport posted an 8-4 first-round edge.

Share Prices' Trend Lower

Most Leaders Dip Slightly in Active Trading Session

New York —P— The stock market eased irregularly in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

Most leading issues were off narrowly or unchanged. A minority of gainers, a few of them sizable, spotted the list.

Prices were irregular from the start. The tendency became slightly lower as trading progressed.

Steels, motors, aircrafts, oils, rails and utilities showed a lower tendency. Plus signs among drugs, chemicals, tobaccos and selected issues gave some support to the averages.

The Wall Street atmosphere was cautious. Prices were near 1958 highs so profit taking continued. Uncertainty about the weekend was heightened by the situation in the Formosa straits and the possibility of an auto strike.

The average was bolstered a bit by Kroger which added more than two points to its rise of Thursday as rumors continued that a stock split and higher dividend were likely. Firestone, which leaped about four points Thursday on similar rumors, slipped more than a point today.

U.S. Tobacco advanced more than a point. Du Pont dropped about a point. Eastman Kodak rose about a point.

U.S. government bonds continued a mild recovery.

BUT by taking advantage of this opportunity to buy this 2 apartment home with grocery store connected in a residential neighborhood of fine homes near schools. Wife or grown family can easily operate store while husband holds his present job. Many other features regarding this unusual opportunity explained in detail to interested parties. Pool Use During Season Shows Slump

Report Lists Seven Days of Rain, 24 Cold Days in Summer

Kaukauna — Attendance at the Memorial swimming pool during the summer amounted to 62,963, slightly below last year's figure despite many more days of cold weather this summer when attendance was cut considerably, according to figures released Thursday by James Gertz, recreation director.

Attendance at the pool varied greatly, peak day being Aug. 5 when 1,594 persons made use of facilities. Five days during the summer no one used the pool. Attendance figures include the students taking morning swimming lessons.

On the basis of strong attendance for the first half of the month, August proved to be the most popular period for swimming. One other day showed attendance over the 1,500 mark while three days during the summer the attendance was over 1,400 and four went over the 1,300 mark.

Low Totals Outside of the days when no one used the pool, there were five days when attendance was below the 100 mark. On Aug. 26 only 18 persons used the pool, on Aug. 24 only 21 were counted and other totals below the 100 mark were 48, 52 and 73.

In conjunction with the attendance figures, Gertz listed days when rain or cold weather affected the swimming. June had 13 days listed as cold and three days of rain, July had no cold days and only two days of rain and August had 11 days classified as cold and only two days of rain.

The report of the recreation director will be submitted to the common council along with recommendations for improvements at the pool. Among routine recommendations such as cleaning and replacing worn parts in the filter system of the pool, suggestions were made for sand-blasting and painting the pool, repairs to diving boards and ladders, new locker purchas-

Venezuela Is Nation of Extremes, Says Visitor

Little Anti-American Feeling Noted by U.S. Resident in Country

BY ED VAN BERKEL Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Kaukauna — Although Venezuela is the most progressive country in South America, it still is a nation of extreme contrasts, according to Mrs. Hysell Brooks, an American who has lived in the country for six years and is a current visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Leedke, Oakridge avenue.

Her husband is technical director for the United States Rubber company in Caracas, Venezuela. The friendship with the Leedkes is a result of having been neighbors in Hammond, Ind., several years ago.

American Feeling Despite the demonstrations against Vice President Richard Nixon which was so well publicized, there is little anti-American feeling in Venezuela, said the visitor. The demonstrations against the United States official were led by students, a minority labor faction and ruff - raff, according to Mrs. Brooks.

Students in that nation do not go in for gold fish swallowing and other forms of energy outlet such as they do in America, said Mrs. Brooks, but rather spend all free time studying politics and taking part in political exercises as a form of release.

Workers at the plant where her husband is employed apologized for the actions of their countrymen in the treatment afforded Nixon, and Rotary clubs sent telegrams, expressing regret, to the United States Chamber of Commerce, she said.

There is anti-foreign feeling in the country, aimed mostly at Italians and Portuguese as workers from these nations came to Venezuela and worked for lower wages than natives, said Mrs. Brooks.

Poor Ambassadors The American tourist is the worst ambassador for the United States, often offending the Venezuelan through their actions and superior manners. Although all tourists are advised not to wear shorts or halters in public as this is extremely offensive to people in that nation, many still ignore the advice, said Mrs. Brooks.

A second point often causing hard feelings against Americans is the inability of tourists to understand why it is necessary for them to use the money of the nation they are visiting and why it is impossible for shop owners to make change in United States currency. Tourists who bring North America with them rather than follow the customs of the country they visit are most annoying, she said.

Nation of Extremes Caracas and Venezuela have the very rich and the poverty stricken, buildings range from modern skyscrapers to adobe huts with thatched roofs, modern freeways and expressways are found along with roads that are practically impassable. There are the well educated and the illiterate but still tremendous strides are being made in all phases of modernization, according to Mrs. Brooks.

New and modern buildings seem to go up overnight in tenement districts are cleared. Progress is being made in the field of public health, in advancing education and other fields. Mrs. Brooks recalls after World War II the nation still was without refrigeration, thus people were forced to purchase meat in the morning before the sun came up and had to eat it the same day to prevent spoilage.

Today there are modern supermarkets where practically any food can be purchased. Formerly a buyer would often have to visit three food stores to complete a shopping tour. Since the soil in the country is diseased, Americans are unable to eat any food which cannot be cooked because of amoebic dysentery. Head lettuce and celery imported from the United States costs $1.50 a bunch and watermelons from the states sell for as high as $20 each.

American Foods Most of the approximately 15,000 Americans in Caracas eat American foods regularly while diet staples for natives include corn, bananas, pineapple, beans, rice and coffee. Living conditions for Americans are also very good, according to Mrs. Brooks. Schools are provided for children of Americans in the country but since the American High school can enroll only about 200, most American children are sent to prep schools in the United States.

The number of Venezuelan youngsters going on to school is slight despite the fact schools are provided free and youngsters complete the regular eight grades in only six years, said Mrs. Brooks. With the coming of North Americans, the siesta, when people rested and all stores closed from noon until 3 o'clock each day, has started to fade from the Venezuelan scene. Phone service in the country is terrible and it is easier to drive 10 miles to see a person than it is to call the party, according to Mrs. Brooks. The phones were introduced by the English 20 years ago and little has been done to improve them since then.

Honking of car horns in Venezuela is against the law and violators are subject to a $30 fine. This is a treat and it is surprisingly easy to get along without a horn, said the guest. Motorists have a habit of slapping the side of their cars with their hands rather than honking.

Venezuela and Caracas, the capitol and a city of over 1,000,000 population, can be compared with New York of 30 years ago with immigrants from throughout the world settling in the city, according to Mrs. Brooks.

Busy Sunday For LC-K Club With 2 Tilts

Meet Foxes, Macs In Afternoon and Evening Games

Little Chute — A busy Sunday is in store for the Little Chute-Kimberly entry in the Fox Valley league as there will be both afternoon and evening games.

In the afternoon LC-K will tangle with the Fox Cities Foxes of the 3-1 league at Goodland field in Appleton. In the evening it will meet the Menasha Macs in the second playoff game for the league title. The night game will be at the Kimberly athletic field.

The Foxes and the Papermakers met two weeks ago with the pro club coming up with a 4 to 2 victory in a tight game. One loose frame with a pair of errors gave the 3-1 club three runs and the victory.

Wins First Game With the Macs the LC-K team has won the first of a 3-game playoff. The win came last Sunday by an 8 to 7 count at the Menasha park.

The two aces of the Papermaker mound staff will be ready to see action as Al Harke and Bob Schmidt have had week and 10-day rests, respectively. Harke will probably go against the Macs Sunday night and Schmidt will try to handle the Foxes.

Harke gained the win over the Macs in the first playoff tilt and has stopped the tough Menasha club a total of three times this season while losing only once. Schmidt hurled against the Foxes in the last meeting and loose play by the fielders prevented him from being a winner.

If the LC-K team can tip the Macs Sunday night the title will be decided. However, if the Menasha club comes through with a victory a third game will have to be played.

Juvenile Foresters Meet Sunday Morning

Construction Delays Opening Of Little Chute Grade School

Little Chute — Construction work on the new addition to the state graded school has delayed the opening of classes, according to Tom Lamers, school board director.

Classes for first through eighth grades will open Sept. 15 and the kindergarten is scheduled to open on Sept. 29. The grade classes will be taught in the present classrooms while the addition will be used for the kindergarten. One room also is reserved for handicapped children and this group has started instructions.

Work on the addition is progressing rapidly. Remaining work is the interior finishing on ceilings and floors. Aluminum windows are being installed this week and other finishing also is underway. Lamers said that 307 children have been enrolled for classes, a higher number than anticipated. This includes the kindergarten pupils. The first grade enrollment is high because the school teaches the only first grade classes in the village. St. John grade school does not have enough room to conduct first grade classes.
